FUNSTON REPORTS MORE TROUBLE AT MEXICO CITY

Long Cipher Cablegram Received at War Department Last Night.

HUERTA REIGN DOOMED

Officers Hold Conference at Washington.

Secretary Garrison Believes Purpose of Message Was to Notify Government of Conditions. No Orders.

Washington, May 7.—Upon receiving a long cipher cablegram from General Funston at Vera Cruz tonight, Secretary Garrison called into conference at the War Department Major General Wotherspoon, chief of staff, and the entire general staff of the army. No intimation as to the nature of the dispatch was made public.

The conference lasted until nearly midnight, and when Secretary Garrison finally left his office, he said there would be no announcement tonight. He and the army officers wore grave faces and it was no secret that news of importance had been received.

Later Secretary Garrison said General Funston had reported that refugees had brought from Mexico City reports of renewed trouble in the capital.

However, no move by the American troops had been ordered. The refugees had informed General Funston of the critical aspect of the affairs of the Huerta regime, that a collapse might be expected momentarily and that conditions of anarchy might ensue.

The purpose of General Funston in making known these reports to the War Department was believed to be to advise the Washington administration of the possibilities that might develop, in order that if the American army is compelled to rescue refugees or restore order it may be fully equipped for such an expedition. The Secretary said that a force could be placed on transports, large enough to make any expedition to Mexico City, immediately if it becomes necessary.

Make Big Show.

Officials of the War Department are known to believe that if an advance on Mexico City is ordered it will be necessary to guard every mile of the railroad as the army moves forward and that a large force would show the natives the futility of resistance, whereas a division of 15,000 men might be subject to several attacks along the route with possibility of big losses.

American army officers also regard the situation at Vera Cruz as likely to become desperate in the event that anarchy breaks out in Mexico City or the forces of General Maas should make an attack irrespective of the Huerta government's promise to suspend hostilities.

Blue jackets could be landed to reinforce the 7,000 troops and marines in Vera Cruz, but to hold the positions outside of Vera Cruz, up to the waterworks more infantry is believed to be needed by General Sunston.

Reports are current that he has asked for more troops, but the War Department had no statement to make.

In the interests of mediation army officers are anxious not to make any move that might embarrass the negotiations, and yet are desirous of being prepared for any eventuality.

It is considered likely that at tomorrow's cabinet meeting the entire situation will be discussed, though the President and Secretary Bryan are believed to be firmly set against any military activity now unless a crisis develops in Mexico beyond control of the authorities there, and foreigners become endangered.

BISHOP BRATTON AND BOOKER T. WASHINGTON.

Address Southern Sociological Congress.

Memphis, Tenn., May 7.—The co-operation of the races for the purpose of bettering conditions in the South, discussed by Bishop Theodore D. Bratton, of Jackson, Miss., and Booker T. Washington, head of the large negro school at Tuskegee, Ala., attracted great crowds at the afternoon session of the Southern Sociological Congress here today.

At the morning and night meetings the general subject of "The Church and Social Service" was discussed.

Bishop Bratton pointed out the necessity of race co-operation in church work as a contributory factor in laying the foundation for the solution of the race problem.

Booker Washington, in discussing race co-operation in securing law and order, pointed to the sociological congress as one of the best means of bringing the two races to a better understanding of each other, as well as the needs and aspirations of the negro.

Norfolk, Va., May 17.—With 3,500 tons of coal on board for the American warships now in Mexico, the five-masted schooner Fannie Palmer sailed for Key West. The naval collier Brutus with a cargo of coal is due to sail tomorrow for Galveston.

EARLY REPORT ON VANDERBILT CASE

ATLANTA SEEKS SCHOOL

Session of Methodists in Conference at Oklahoma City Given Over to General Run of Business—Committees.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 7.—Reports were received, committees appointed, memorials presented and consideration begun of the status of Vanderbilt University in its present relation to the church today by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, meeting in quadrennial session here. One memorial proposed changing the name of the church from the "Methodist Episcopal Church, South," to the "Methodist Church" or the "Methodist Church in America," another suggested dropping the word "Catholic" and substituting "Holy Church" in the Apostles Creed and others were for and against the granting of emiality rights to the women of the church. Various amendments to church laws and customs were proposed. All of the proposals were referred to committees.

That the "educational programme has come so prominently to the forefront that there is a tendency to neglect if not disparage evangelistic methods, was declared by the Epworth League Board which reported today.

"The well-night universal admission by educators that our whole system of education, lacking as in the nature of the case it must, the religious element, is radically defective, points to the Sunday school as the necessary complement of the public school system," said the report. "Unless the Sunday school be seriously considered in connection with our public school, not as a mere adjunct or elective to our public school education, but as an essential part of the educational programme, we are confronted with the amazing situation of a country of a hundred million of inhabitants proceeding upon its course of self-perpetuation upon the theory that man has no soul."

Contributions to Missions.

Figures submitted by Rev. Edward F. Cook, secretary of the foreign department board of missions, showed that in 1913 contributions to missions totalled $1,299,613.59. Of this amount $924,965.47 was contributed to foreign missions and $374,684.12 to home missions.

The Board of Education reported the appropriation of $68,000 to various Methodist schools throughout the country during the quadrennial.

A resolution setting tomorrow as a day of fasting and prayer in view of the great problems which today face the church, was adopted. The resolution provides that the first hour and a half of tomorrow's session shall be devoted to prayer and other devotional services.

Before relinquishing the gavel today to Bishop E. R. Hendrix, of Kansas City, Bishop A. W. Wilson, senior bishop, named a committee of 15 to consider the Vanderbilt situation, caused by the recent decision of the Tennessee Supreme Court which held that the church was without direct jurisdiction over the University. The committee held its first meeting tonight. Hearings will be held each day to receive sugestions. A report will probably be made in about ten days.

The presence here of Asa G. Candler, capitalist, of Atlanta, Ga., today revived rumors that Mr. Candler stood ready to give a million dollars to the church for the establishment in Atlanta of a university to replace Vanderbilt as the representative educational institution of the church.

Asked the direct question tonight, Mr. Candler declared that he had not authorized such an offer and likewise denied a report that he had tentatively agreed to donate $500,000 toward the publishing house if it was removed from Nashville. Mr. Candler said that such offers, in advance of action by the conference with regard to the University, he would regard as highly improper.

COLORADO MINERS ASK FOR MORE PROTECTION

Claim That Their Property Has Been Threatened by Strikers.

Trinidad, Colo., May 7.—Operators in the Northern coal fields today made urgent appeals to Col. James Lockett, commanding Federal troops in the Southern fields, for additional soldiers to protect the mines there, which they say had been threatened by strikers. The operators reported that their strike breakers refused to remain at work unless additional protection was guaranteed.

Colonel Lockett has made no decision as to the operators' request. He has been besieged by Union leaders to permit the reconstruction of the Ludlow Tent Colony, destroyed by fire April 20th. The operators have asked him not to grant such permission.

ATTENTION GIVEN TO THE PRACTICAL

Club Women Have Busy Day at Fayetteville.

MRS. EDWARDS WINNER

Wilmington Woman Awarded Both Prizes for Best Musical Compositions—Mr. Edwin L. Starr Heard in Address.

WILL MEMORALIZE CONGRESS.

Fayetteville, N. C., May 7.—The Federation of Women's Clubs of North Carolina will memorialize Congress for a censorship of popular songs of the day. In session here today, a resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote setting forth that there was need of expurgation; that the catchy music carried evil words which were a hurt to morality and a lowering of proper ideals.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., May 7.—The North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs has developed into an organization which means business. The deliberations today were of an eminently practical nature, and the steps taken were for the advance of womanhood in the world's affairs. They favored a class A college for women, but looked after the educational interests of women from the start. They showed themselves strong for civic conditions, where they are vitally interested. As to the economic status, they appointed a special committee to look, this year, after girls who work in ten cent stores and some telephone exchanges.

Further, they are looking for employment as pharmacists, and endorsed the efforts of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association and the State Board of Pharmacy to secure a preliminary high school training and at least nine months of technical training to practice pharmacy.

Miss Edith Royster, of Raleigh, chairman of the committee on the economic status of women, noted with pride the freedom of women from injustice in North Carolina as compared with other States. As to bills presented to the State Legislature, they required a rigid censorship of same. But they did not forget to make themselves attractive, as they held a fine art session and a music session.

Mrs. Edwards Wins Two Prizes.

According to the annual custom, two prizes were awarded for the best musical composition, and Mrs. J. D. Edwards, of the Sorosis of Wilmington, was awarded both prizes.

Tonight the Fayetteville lodge of Elks entertained the Federation most royally.

During the session today, the clubs which have not done so were asked to contribute to the O. Henry Memorial.

As to the financial management, the treasurer's report shows that they are doing well.

Mrs. Pennybacker's Address.

The address last night of Mrs. C. V. Pennybacker, president of the General Federation, was very able, and was filled with sweet womanliness and showed that with the advancement of woman in the club, she sought only the advancement of woman in the home and the world. It was well received and made a fine impression. She is a native of Lynchburg, Va., but in the days of Civil War lived in Fayetteville. She was humorous, pathetic and eloquent, but at all times showed herself a true Christian woman.

Mrs. Brown Reports.

Mrs. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, chairman of the music department, made a splendid report, telling what the clubs of the State are doing. She announced the award of the first and second prizes for the best musical composition presented by members of federation. Mrs. J. D. Edwards, of Sorosis, of Wilmington, received both prizes, first for "Love Me If I Live," and second, "Not The Thing You Do, Dear." Mrs. Brown advocated the establishment of a music commission, the playing of music on a grade basis in the public schools, encouraging of better music in the Sunday schools. She deprecated the use of the airs "God Save the King," "America" and advocated the endorsement of our own beautiful "Star Spangled Banner."

Following Mrs. Brown's report she brought a resolution for the memorializing of Congress to have a censorship of popular songs instituted. The suggestion came from the education department of the Woman's Club of Raleigh, and Mrs. Brown presented it as a matter close to her heart. The sentiments of the federation were expressed in the hearty applause.

Mrs. T. W. Lingle submitted the report of the committee on resolutions. The following resolutions were passed:

"Whereas, the discontinuance of the Keystone has left the N. C. F. of W. C. without an official organ, and

"Whereas, the publicity committee and the newspapers of the State have this year rendered most efficient service in spreading club news, and,

"Whereas, the General Federation is

MEDIATORS MAKE STEADY PROGRESS

Developments in Mexican Situation Improve.

ECLIPSED BY WEDDING

Plans Proposed Will Cover Pacification of All Mexico Regardless of Withdrawal of General Carranza, Constitutionalist.

Washington, May 7.—Development in the Mexican situation went steadily forward today, although the White House wedding somewhat eclipsed other events in official Washington circlise.

The two chief reports from Mexico announced the killing of two British subjects, and one American at Guadalajara; and continued heavy fighting at Mazatlan on the Pacific coast where the rebel aeroplane dropped a bomb which killed four persons and injured eight in the streets of the besieged city.

The State Department also was informed by Consul Mamm at Durango, that the movement of the Constitutionalists had begun with marching against Saltillo and Zacatazas.

Information from the Argentina, Brazilian and Chilean mediators showed that they were preparing to begin work in Niagara Falls, Ont. They declared that despite General Carranza's self-elimination, the Constitutionalist side of the Mexican problem would be fully considered by the mediators at the coming conference.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have determined to appoint as delegates to the mediation conference men of judicial ability and if possible those familiar with the proceedings of arbitral tribunals.

America's Representatives.

A man close to the President said today it would not be surprising if a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States should be one of the representatives of the American government. Justice Mahlon Pitney, though a Republican, is a close friend of the President and may be chosen. Justice Day was a member of the Paris peace conference and a former Supreme court judge.

George Gray, of Delaware, also personally intimate with the President and an American delegate to The Hague, is another who is considered likely to be chosen.

Counsellor Robert Lansing, of the State Department, busy with his duties at the department may not be prepared to serve, but if satisfactory arrangements can be made to take care of his work, he may be selected.

ONLY SIX JURORS SO FAR IN BECKER CASE

Cockran May Have to Face Contempt Charges.

Made Statement That Trial Was Nothing But an Assassination. Newspaper Men Testify.

New York, May 7.—The selection of the 12 men to try Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, moved slowly today. In all 89 talesmen were examined but when adjournment was taken until tomorrow only six men were in the jury box.

After court had adjourned today, District Attorney Whitman, conferred with Justice Seabury, concerning a statement W. Bourke Cockran, of counsel for the defense, was reported to have made outside the court room yesterday, after efforts to have Mr. Whitman adjudged guilty of contempt, had failed. The prosecutor had been accused of trying to create an atmosphere prejudicial to Becker through stories given to the newspapers. Cockran is alleged to have said he intended to quit the case and to have added: "It is not a trial; it is an assassination."

On the ground that such a statement was a reflection on the court it was decided to issue subpoenas for newspaper men who are said to have heard Mr. Cockran's remarks so that they might be examined tomorrow.

Mr. Whitman may ask that Mr. Cockran be adjudged in contempt of court.

Charges Against Becker.

New York, May 7.—Katherine B. Davis, commissioner of corrections, in a statement today declared she had found that a group of prisoners in the Tombs, among them former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and Philip Musica, had conspired to obtain signatures by subterfuge to a petition charging her with graft and neglect of duty.

As punishment for Becker, the commissioner added that hereafter he could not confer with counsel except in his cell and could see no other persons. This will bar him from seeing his wife.

SIMPLE CEREMONY MARKED WEDDING

Only Few Guests Present at White House Affair.

SECOND DURING YEAR

Washington, May 7.—Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the President and Mrs. Wilson, tonight became the bride of William Gibbs McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, in the historic blue room of the White House. Less than 100 persons, and but few officials heard the voice of Rev. Sylvester W. Beach, of the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton, as he united the two in marriage.

It was a simple ceremony. For the President and Mrs. Wilson it was a touching moment, as they gave away a daughter for the second time within a year. Around them stood their relatives and friends, a small group—for it was a family affair—much the same kind of home wedding one would see in any American household—though the historic interior of the White House with its masses of lilies and ferns, the uniformed aides, and the presence of members of the cabinet and the Vice President preserved for the function an official aspect.

It was in contrast, nevertheless, to the wedding of last November. There were no uniformed diplomats, no members of the Senate or House or the Supreme Court. This was the wish of the bride and groom, carried out to the letter and except for an afternoon of gaiety among the young folks the day and evening moved along quietly and quickly.

The ceremony started at 6 o'clock sharp and lasted but 15 minutes. The reception was brief, the wedding supper was followed by a brief dance, and at eight o'clock the bride and groom had left, all wedding guests had departed and the White House resumed its normal appearance interrupted but a few hours.

Busy Preparations.

RICHMOND GETS REUNION IN 1915

General Bennett H. Young is Again Re-Elected.

"We read with indignation of repeated insults offered to American citizens by Mexicans and imbued with the patriotism derived as a heritage from our ancestors we hereby tender his excellency, the President of the United States, if called upon, a company of 100 men to be selected from our corps.

"We assure him that they will be able to fully fulfill their duties and bear the hardships that will be required of regular soldiers. We hereby guarantee to be among the first to plant the American flag on the battlements of Mexico City, or any other fortress within her bounds."

The Public Warned!

We feel it to be a public duty to warn the community in reference to the bond election.

The question is not whether we shall have public terminals, but whether we shall have them under PRESENT CONDITIONS!

That gross irregularities in registration have repeatedly occurred, and citizens denied the right of registering, when offering to do so, is a matter of common knowledge and COMPLAINT!

That public sentiment is against needlessly increasing our bonded indebtedness and tax rate is clear to every intelligent man.

Persistence in repeated efforts to force the election in the face of a well-defined public opposition is of itself SUSPICIOUS!

There is reason to believe that the rights of voters are sought to be frustrated, and an honest expression defeated!

It behooves every voting tax-payer to see that his name is on the registration books in PROPER FORM—and TOMORROW is the last day for Registration!

Safety demands that every voter shall cast his ballot in the election. WE WILL HAVE NO SUBSTITUTES!

LONG AND SHORT HAUL DECISION

Handed Down by Inter-State Commerce Commission.

ALLOW SOME DEVIATION

Hundreds of Applications of Southern Roads to Make Higher Charge on Freight to Intermediate Points.

Washington, May 7.—Deviation of railroads south of the Potomac and Ohio and east of the Mississippi rivers from the long and short haul provision of the law were dealt with in a decision handed down today by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

Hundreds of applications were made by Southern railroads for permission to exact a higher charge on freight traffic to intermediate points than to the more distant terminals. In many instances, the commission has granted permission; in others it is denied.

The decision will have the effect of materially changing the relation of rates now existing throughout the South.

The report deals with freight rates on classes and commodies from New York to the ports of Charleston, S. C., Savannah and Brunswick, Ga.; Jacksonville and Pensacola, Fla.; Mobile, Ala., and New Orleans; to the river points, Memphis, Tenn.; Augusta, Macon, Milledgeville, Hawkinsville, Dublin, Columbus and Albany, Ga., and to the interior points, Rome, Athens, Atlanta and Cordele, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala.; Jackson and Meridian, Miss., and points intermediate thereto on direct lines through Potomac yards, Virginia, Norfolk, Va., and the South Atlantic ports.

The decision also deals with rates from Cincinnati and Louisville to the same points, and with the rates from Chicago, Cairo and St. Louis to destinations throughout the South.

Point Out Reason.

The commission pointed out that "the rate situation in the Southeast is one of long standing and of peculiar complexity."

"The territory," said the report, "is almost surrounded by navigable water and is bounded on the North also by strong lines of railways running in a general easterly and westerly direction. These railways enjoy a relatively high traffic density and maintain rates materially lower than the Southern railways can usually afford to accept for like distances. The territory is pierced also by numerous navigable streams which afford a means of transportation and have had the effect of reducing the rates between stations upon their banks to a level lower than they probably would have been were it not for the influence of these streams. The advantage which a city possesses by reason of its location upon navigable water, which affords a cheap means of transportation for its articles of commerce, has been recognized by these carriers in the adjustment of their rates and is recognized by the commission in its report. This is shown by granting relief with respect to rates from New York and the Ohio river crossings to the South Atlantic and Gulf ports; with respect also to rates from St. Louis, Cairo and Chicago to Gulf ports and Mississippi river points.

Any adjustment of rates, however, to any of these coast, river, or interior points which is lower than the necessities of competition require results in preference to such points and prejudice against intermediate points to which higher rates are applied. The carriers serving some of the interior cities in the Southeast have reduced their rates to such points below the level of rates to intermediate points in order to permit these interior cities to compete on more favorable terms with water-competitive points. This, too, has resulted in some cases in a rate situation showing preference to the reduced rate point and prejudice against the higher rates intermediate points."

The commission in general holds: "1. That relief from the provisions of the fourth section should not be granted on account of the desire of a carrier to reduce the rate to a given market of distribution in order to facilitate the distribution of articles from that point in competition with another point distributing the same or similar articles.

"2. That relief from the provisions of the fourth section may be granted to a carrier who is transporting a commodity from one source of supply to a consuming market and coming into competition at that market with another carrier transporting the same or similar articles from a different source of supply, when it is affirmatively shown:

"(a) That the carrier seeking relief is at a marked disadvantage with respect to its competitors; and (b) that the competition met at the reduced rate point is consistently met at all intermediate points."

In conclusion, the commission expressed the belief that "the general readjustment that will take place responsive to this report should result in a more stable, consistent and reasonable system of rates than now exists."

Danville, Va., May 7.—Mrs. Eugenia Elderkin, widow, aged 42, was burned to death at noon today at her home on Ridge street here, as the result of an exploding gas range. BEGIN TOLLS REPEAL ARGUMENT IN SENATE

Opponents of Wilson's Measure Make Last Stand.

O'Gorman and Bristow Attack Stand Taken by Administration—Claim England Would Benefit the Most.

Washington, May 7.—Opposition to the bill for the repeal of the tolls exemtpion clause of the Panama Canal act was voiced in the Senate today in vigorous speeches by Senators O'Gorman and Bristow. Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the Senate inter-oceanic canals committee and leader of the opposition, based his protest on economic, legal and political grounds.

Senator Bristow, Republican, of Kansas, said that he opposed the bill which benefits England more than any other nation and declared that England had been the enemy of the United States in every hour of need since the revolution.

With these two speeches out of the way, and others announced for tomorrow and Saturday, the debate on the repeal bill may be completed next week. Many Senators are yet to be heard, but Democratic leaders are anxious to get through with the tolls issue as soon as possible and it is the intention to have Senators who wish to speak make their arguments and then demand a vote.

Senator Works today added another amendment to the many already proposed for the perfection for the repeal bill. The amendment would provide that the United States by repealing the tolls exemption provision waives no right over the canal, and is similar to the amendment proposed by Senator Simmons, the leader of the forces back of the bill.

England Would Benefit.

"England," said Senator Bristow, "has been our enemy in every hour of need, and never once since the revolutionary patriots shed their blood at Bunker Hill has she not rejoiced when misfortune befell us. But never has the audacity of her selfishness been more manifest than at the present time; and unfortunately for this country, we have an administration in temporary charge of our national affairs, which in its sentiment, seems to be more English than American."

Senator Bristow pointed out that Great Britain, the principal protestant against the toll exemption of American ships, owns about half the merchant vessels which sail the seas.

"In the construction of the canal" he said, "we have rendered her the greatest service ever rendered to one nation by another in the commercial history of the world, and this has been done without price of reward. Probably five times as many English ships will pass through it as American ships. In face of this condition it certainly is an astounding proposition for England to ask us to incur all risk and then give her all the advantages in every detail that we have in the use of the canal. Yet this is what England asks, and what Mr. Wilson proposes we shall give her, 'right or wrong,' because she asks it."

Senator Bristow attacked the Carnegie Peace Foundation and declared that it has spent much money in carrying on a campaign to bring about the repeal of the toll exemption law.

"This association," he said, "has used its enormous resources to slander its own government and stir up strife in its own country."

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS TUESDAY

Washington, May 7.—Democratic leaders in the House, anxious to get Congress out of Washington by July 10th, today called a party caucus for Tuesday through which they hope to expedite consideration and passage of the anti-trust bills on the administration programme.

The caucus will determine the length of time the measure shall be debated in the House and, in compliance with its decision, the rules committee will frame an order under which the debate will proceed.

Predictions as to the time to be given Democrats, Republicans and Progressives varied tonight, but it is probable that the bill will be put to a vote within the next two weeks.

In the Senate there was little progress today toward perfection of its combined anti-trust bill. The Inter-State Commerce Commission was prepared for a hearing, but the expected witnesses did not appear. Hearings will be held tomorrow, Saturday and Monday and the committee may be able to report at the end of next week. Present plans of Senate leaders do not include a party conference on this bill.

Favorably Report Bill.

Washington, May 7.—The bill for Federal control of the issue of stocks and bonds, embracing drastic requirement that the Inter-State Commerce Commission shall pass upon, in advance, any issues of railroad securities and give them ample publicity was favorably reported today by the House Inter-State Commerce Committee. The bill was amended to decline that "nothing herein shall be construed to imply any guaranty or obligation as to such issues on the part of the United States."

This amendment was adopted after a long discussion as to whether the public would be buncoed by any possible effort to claim governmental guarantee in the mafketing of securities.

The bill was drawn mainly by Representative Rayburn, of Texas, with features of the measure drafted by Representative Sims, of Tennessee. It will be placed immediately on the House calendar with a view to action as soon as possible as part of the Administration programme.

WILMINGTON BOY WOUNDED.

Mrs. J. W. Smith, of 806 North Third street, has received a letter from her son, Mr. W. M. Jones, stating that he was slightly wounded in the arm during the taking of Vera Cruz by the American marines and bluejackets. Mr. Jones is on the U. S. S. New Jersey, having joined the service last June. He was formerly in the revenue cutter service here.

The young man states that his wound was hardly worth noticing, and remarks that it did more damage to his shirt than to his arm. Several men right around him fell, he writes, and one man, marching by his side, was killed, having been shot through the mouth. Mrs. Smith received the letter from her son Wednesday.

JUDGE R. W. WINSTON IN HOUSE NEXT YEAR

To Work for Adequate System of Rural Credits

Expected to be Elected With Little or No Opposition—Improvements at State Fair Grounds.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 7.—Former Judge Robert W. Winston authorizes the statement that he will be in the race for one of the three seats in the lower house of the next Legislature allotted to Wake county. And now that he has consented to accept the Democratic nomination, it is generally agreed that he will be chosen practically without opposition.

Judge Winston will enter on his duties as legislator with special purpose to accomplish something in the direction of establishing for this State some adequate system of rural credits through which the farmers can be accommodated to long term loans at low rates of interest. He insists that the farm life must be made more attractive and profitable in order that the young men may be kept on the farms. He will also give special attention to the system of taxation for the State that must undergo very general reconstruction at the next session of the Legislature.

Funeral of Maurice Watts.

Last afternoon there was a remarkably extensive funeral service for Maurice Watts, who was grand treasurer of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Negro Odd Fellows and quite prominent among the negroes here. The service was from St. Paul's Methodist church and the procession was exceptionally long. The Knights of Pythias and the Masons participated with the Odd Fellows, the latter only taking a hand in the service.

Improvements at Fair Grounds.

Considerable improvements are in progress at the State fair grounds, although it has been decided not to erect any new buildings this season. Changes are being made that will give more and better room for exhibits and conveniences and public comforts for the great crowds are being extended and improved. By the time the next fair opens in October there will be double track all the way out to the fair grounds for the street cars and this will greatly improve the service in the matter of handling the crowds, making the service thoroughly adequate.

Craig Too Hoarse to Speak.

Governor Craig found this morning that it was impossible, owing to a bronchial trouble that he has contracted the past few days, for him to fill an engagement tonight to deliver an address at Statesville for the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. He was able to spend only a very short time in the executive office today and he is that hoarse that he could not possibly attempt public speaking.

Union Depot for Apex.

The Corporation Commission today made an order directing the Seaboard Air Line and Durham & Southern to proceed with the erection of a new union passenger station and union freight depot at Apex where the old freight and passenger station was burned some months ago. The order specifies the location of the two buildings. The passenger station is to be on the south side of Center street and the freight station on the opposite side of the street. The passenger station is to be brick and the freight may be either frame or brick as the town and the railroad company may agree. The railroad companies will spend $22,000 on the stations and new trackage.

NO CHANGES MADE.

All Department Heads at Kinston to be Retained.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 7.—Mayor Sutton announces that every department head of Kinston's official family would be retained during the fiscal year which begins May 10. They are: Mayor pro tem. and chairman of the finance committee, Alderman L. J. Newborn; city treasurer and fire commissioner, Alderman W. D. Hood; street commissioner, Alderman E. V. Webb; sanitation commissioner, Alderman H. P. Fort; light and water commissioner, Alderman R. R. Rouse; cemetery commissioner, Alderman E. J. Becton. Besides these Attorney John G. Dawson, Physician George Kornegay, Fire Chief T. V. Moseley, Chief of Police W. C. Heath and City Clerk W. B. Coleman will continue in office, and every under employe will be retained.

Today the floating indebtedness of the city was paid off and the beginning of the fiscal year will see the municipality's books clear except of the bonded indebtedness and current salaries. This has been the custom for the past five years, and many bills were paid on which the time had not expired in order that the new year may be started with the books clean.

SENATOR SHEPPARD COMING.

Texas Statesman to Deliver Memorial Address at Kinston.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 7.—Morris Sheppard, United States Senator from Texas, will make the address when the local Woodmen of the World hold their annual memorial services in Maplewood cemetery in May, members of Hollywood Camp stated today. Senator Sheppard is the sovereign banker of the order in the country and is a brilliant orator.

G. V. Cowper, Democratic county chairman here, said today that J. Paul Frizzelle has refused to run for State senator in this district. His declination is positive. Frizzelle, who is mayor of Snow Hill, recently declined to be a candidate for solicitor. With the statement that the Snow Hill man would not run, Frank Thompson, of Onslow county, who has been in an attitude of "watchful waiting", announced himself for one of the two senatorships from this district. He and Senator A. D. Ward, of Newbern, are the only candidates and are expected to be without opposition.

KINSTON TO VOTE ON $100,000 BOND ISSUE.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 7.—At the urgent request of the chamber of commerce, Kinston city council has ordered a bond election to be held June 23, for $100,000 for street and electric light station improvements and possibly sewer system extension. A new registration is required. The issue was authorized by the Legislature in 1913. Simultaneously with the calling of this election was the appointment by the president of the chamber of commerce of a committee to conduct an educational campaign for an issue of $100,000 by Lenoir county for roads betterment.

The chairman of the county commissioners and Dr. J. M. Parrott, president of the county roads association, are among the advocates of the issue and are on the committee. It is not probable that much opposition will be met by either issue, since Dr. Parrott claims that the roads bonds would not increase taxation one cent and the city issue would cause the increase per hundred dollars of property not more than six cents. The county's roads will be built by contract, after which one-third of the present tax levy will be used in paying the interest and retiring the bonds and the remaining two-thirds in maintenance, using convicts as a patrol force.

BURGAW ELECTS OFFICERS.

"Free Rangers" Hold Monthly Meeting—Congressional Talk.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., May 7.—The congressional primary to be held in the Third district on the 16th inst., has caused little talk in this county. While Dr. Faison has not been able to circulate among the people, as have some of his competitors, on account of his duties in Washington, his friends here have not been asleep, and they say they count on making a good showing for him on the 16th.

The Free Rangers held their regular monthly meeting in the court house here Tuesday and discussed the situation.

The town election Tuesday passed off quietly, though there was a spirited contest over the board of commissioners, there being two tickets in the field. The following were elected: Messrs. W. A. Cannon, W. O. Singletary, J. N. George, D. J. Farrior, Jr., and Dr. R. H. Bradford. Mr. Hugh Overstreet was elected mayor, without opposition. These officials are elected for one year.

Strawberries are beginning to move from here at last, but the acreage around here is small and there will not be many shipped from Burgaw.

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICE AT GREENVILLE.

Greenville, N. C., May 7.—The W. H. Ragsdale Memorial service was held in the auditorium of East Carolina Teacners' Training School Monday evening. The student body of the school was present and a large number of sympathetic friends from the town and elsewhere. The service began with prayer by Rev. C. M. Rock, pastor of the Baptist church, of which Mr. Ragsdale was a member. Several tributes were paid to the memory of the deceased.

Mr. A. G. Cox, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Education, paid a high tribute to Mr Ragsdale's work as superintendent of the schools of the county. Rev. Mr. Rock spoke of his faithful work in the church. Mr. Roy C. Flanagan told of the influential life of Mr. Ragsdale as a teacher. Rev. B. W. Spillman, of Kinston, spoke of Mr. Ragsdale's sweet home life, of his companionship, devotion and service to others.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, gave a brief biographical sketch of Professor Ragsdale, followed by a review of his career and his prominence in the educational affairs of the State. He had the most ideal county teachers association in the State. His teachers were always devoted to him and his enthusiasm was contagious. A high tribute was paid to his efficiency and ability and to the vast progress in education in Pitt county during his administration.

President R. H. Wright, of the Training school, spoke of Mr. Ragsdale as a member of the faculty of the institution. As a teacher of school management, he was a close vital link between the students and the practical problems arising in school life. Mr. Wright's personal touch with Mr. Ragsdale revealed to him the beautiful character and goodness of the man—no task was too severe, no duty too lowly for him to perform; he did not dream out theories; he was always working and struggling to help others—he lived the real life.

Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, was scheduled to deliver an address, but, finding it impossible to come, he wrote a beautiful tribute to Professor Ragsdale, which was read by Prof. H. E. Austin, chairman of the exercises.

Three appropriate hymns were sung by the Training school students. The portrait of Professor Ragsdale—a living likeness painted by Jacques Busbee, of Raleigh—was on the platform wreathed in white flowers. This memorial service was quite impressive, and the true ring of sincerity, which was heard throughout the exercises, tells of the great loss that the people who knew Mr. Ragsdale sustain.

KINSTON BIDDERS WIN.

Get Contract to Construct Wilson School Building.

Wilson, N. C., May 7.—Blalock Brothers, of Kinston, were the successful bidders for the construction of the new graded school building to be erected on Kenan street. The bidding was spirited and the Kinston firm went in ahead of the highest bid, nearly $3,000. The board of education has purchased the Harrit lot and construction of the new building will begin at once. The contractors promise to deliver the building in time for the opening of the schools in the fall. The contract price was $16,896. The present buildings are crowded and the new school house is badly needed.

Warsaw, N. C., May 7.—Mrs. Caroline Crumpler, a lady 70 years old, died in Calypso yesterday from pneumonia. The remains were brought here this morning and taken over to Clinton, where interment was to be made.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embrocation in our "Mother's Friend" in which thousands of women have the most unbounded confidence. They have used it and know. They tell of its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoided those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin, to render it amenable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes and great physical relief is the result as expressed by a host of happy mothers who write from personal experience.

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, has been given the most severe tests under most all trying conditions and is recommended by women who to-day are grandmothers and who in their earlier years learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women.

"Mother's Friend" is declared by a multitude of women to be just what expectant motherhood requires.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. Get a bottle to-day and then write for our little book.

You can't dodge the bill of the mosquito if you wear drop stitch hosiery or gauze half hose.

It is reported that "Huerta is preparing to fly." It has taken him a long time to get "up in the air."

We are told that Huerta is again in a hole. Nevertheless, the old Indian seems to go right on doing business in the hole.

If the United States marines are permitted to have their way in Vera Cruz they will capture all the senoritas in town.

Up around Charlotte, President Lyon, of the Carolina Baseball League, seems to be the lion of the day. He seems to be a roaring success.

It is said that in Paris brunettes, after a long period of supremacy, are now giving way to blondes. Peroxide will soon give away both the brunettes and the blondes.

Says the Columbia State: "One may be a staunch Democrat and love Roosevelt still." However, he won't remain still long enough to get even the admiration of those who love him still.

Clinton must be going some. Editor Theo. Partrick says in the Sampson Democrat: "Heaven forbid that we should boast. Yet we fear to tell the truth about Clinton, lest we should be said to do so."

President Wilson having moved into a tent may be a sign that he has mobilized for a campaign like the one Colonel William Randolph Hearst carries on—far away from where he might be disturbed.

Those who used to approve dancing as an exercise, did so because it was said that a two hours dance was equal to walking five miles. Tangoing for two hours would be equal to climbing up and down about a hundred flights of stairs without grabbing the banister rails.

A young man has everything before him—opportunity, achievements, success and beauty. Most of them want the beauty first, but the beauty would rather see him come and lay all the other things at her feet when she quits tangoing long enough to make that possible.

Wilmington has a busy summer life. The crowds come to the seaside, and they are going and coming all the time. We have made the ocean an asset for Wilmington. We have a good time ourselves and others come to Wilmington to get their share of enjoyment. Oh, no, Eulalia, we don't quit working because we have a good time. We work and recreate, and recreate and work. Some who appear to be working both sides of the street are not doing it. They are taking in the movies.

Doing things in a town and for the town requires funds. If a town's administration is not accomplishing anything, for lack of money with which to do things, don't expect empty handed official to construct streets, lay pavements, and keep everything in apple pie order. Put good, reliable men in office and see that they shall have revenue with which to do what ought to be done. A town can't get something for nothing any more than a man can get a new spring suit by winking at a dummy in front of a clothing establishment.

According to the claims of the revolutionists, they are taking care of their part of the Mexican situation. They report additional victories and have three separate armies each about 300 miles from the city of Mexico, the plan being later on to invest the city from the north, the east and the west. Meanwhile, Zapata is supposed to be doing business on the south. The situation at Vera Cruz is in General Funston's hands. Quiet reigns, but as he has been authorized to extend his lines around Vera Cruz, to meet any defensive plans he may have, there may be something doing. If the Mexicans don't move back while Funston extends his lines, the Americans are liable to step on the Greasers' corns.

MANN'S JOB.

Republican Leader Mann, having done a lot of calamity howling in order to throw obstacles in President Wilson's way, is now attacking the administration's plans to put business on a safe basis in order to better safeguard it against calamity and calamity howlers. The Republican howl really is not against calamity but for calamity. Its sole dependence is on business chaos, and there could not be enough of it to suit such leaders as Mann. The country isn't safe when any political party is doing its best to smash in the door so calamity can enter. That's Mann's job, but it is not a man's job.

We have admired the ability, adroitness and resourcefulness of many Republican leaders, but we renig on Mann. He doesn't do any leading in statesmanship. He leads the gang which goes ahead of progress and thinks it can be stopped by tearing up the track or greasing the rails. We are pained to observe it, but that's all we see in the leadership of Mann so far. He simply makes a noise against the government because he is against it. Anarchists have about the same reason.

THE GIRL IN THE KITCHEN.

Colonel Wade Harris, editor of the Charlotte Observer, is the author of those delightful and entertaining skits entitled "The Girl in the Kitchen." For every girl in the kitchen there should be a pantry and something in it to keep the girl from getting tired. A kitchen cabinet on the side, a patent dishwasher, a steam dryer, and a man to carry in the wood and the kindling look good to a girl in the kitchen. Meanwhile the girl in the kitchen looks mighty good to mother, even if she (the girl) burns the buttermilk biscuit while having a pipe dream about some fellow who parts his hair like Lizzie.

A married feminist has nudged us to say that she saves a lot of trouble by cooking with gas for a gas bag. She says Flossie Furbelows don't even know that the dishes can be dried in a jiffy by putting them in a wire basket and slipping it in the stove oven for a second or two. She also says no Mutt has ever considered it is a good idea to have a rack for the aluminum kitchenware, or the pots and pans, or a roll of paper towels, a box of powder that eats up grease, and a box of rubber gloves, etc. She also says men ought to report in the kitchen every morning to take a practical course in "doughmestic science," and work themselves up into a hilarious mood over the numerous things they can do to aid in bringing about a peaceful and perfectly entrancing solution of the servant problem.

She furthermore deposed and made deliverance to the effect that the males of the species can do a considerable amount of headwork of a purely domestic character, even to the extent of letting the girl in the kitchen crack the eggs on their heads if they are not good for anything else. She may be about right, but men would go home later than ever and get a quicker move on them in getting out if they had an idea that they would be expected to do any of the Sally work about the house. However, the girl in the kitchen is the real subject for elucidation, and Editor Harris thus tells us how the girls are beginning to dearly love the kitchen:

"The work once scorned as beneath the dignity of a young woman is fast coming into recognition as one of first importance in modern educational equipment, and the young women are coming around to the idea that it is better to be queen of the kitchen than queen of the parlor. The inventive ingenuity which has tended to make life in the kitchen a charm instead of a drudgery is helping the good work along. The gas range, the fireless cooker, the electric stove and the handy tricks for service in the cook room are revolutionizing sentiment. The kitchen is no langer a furnace with a red-faced woman fussing about in it, her temper as disordered as her hair is disheveled. It is an art room from which the young woman with no more time than would be required to give her hair a pat or two and to see that her hat is on straight, would be in shape to go to the marriage altar with the finest young man alive. In former times the thing was to go to the parlor to pick a wife. It is coming to pass that for this purpose the kitchen is winning the honors, and in that good judgment is growing mutual. It can be said in perfect respect and without begging reverence, that the country is going to hear less about how mother used to cook and more about how wife can cook."

Fit up the kitchen in the proper way if you want the girls to get stuck on domestic science. About every architect in Christendom thinks two by four is the proper size for a kitchen, but the architect who is going to take the cake in the future is the one who can model a real parlor kitchen. More conveniences and fewer cuddyholes for kitchens will make housekeeping less a bugbear to women, and the house man who does not see that the art room is the one in which domestic science is to be carried on has to get a new wrinkle in his head about what a kitchen ought to be and about what ought to be in it to lighten the burden of the girl in the kitchen, whether she is his tango daughter, or just the cook. Keeping cooks from going is one of the best parts of the whole subject.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce always is an event in Wilmington and that occasion yesterday was particularly so for several reasons. The chief feature was the election of officers by ballot previous to the meeting, a custom which has always prevailed with the Chamber. The feature of general interest was the procedings of the annual meeting held at 4 o'clock.

The Chamber is to be congratulated upon having re-elected Mr. M. J. Corbett as president, and for having chosen the other capable officials who are to be associated with him in conducting the affairs of the Chamber during the ensuing fiscal year. President Corbett is a third termer and happens to be his own successor so often because he has made the Chamber an able, active, and alert chief executive. So largely identified with Wilmington's business interests, not to mention his home associations and his social affiliations, he is naturally quite deeply interested in promoting the city's best interests.

President Corbett's re-election is an assurance that for another year Wilmington will get the benefit of his fine leadership in directing the Chamber of Commerce in its work. He has displayed great zeal in working for Wilmington and it is gratifying to know that during the past year that body has accomplished good work for Wilmington. The report of Secretary Howard B. Branch, to be found in the regular proceedings, notes the specific achievements of the Chamber during the past year, and the reports of the various committees show that the organization is in fine working trim and is meeting in a peculiarly appropriate way the need of a representative and authoritative body to act as the mouthpiece of the city.

In several instances the Chamber during the past year has proven itself a strong factor in the commercial and industrial life and progress of the city. It has successfully undertaken many things for the general welfare and has in several notable particulars done substantial work in promoting the development of Wilmington. Active work has been done in promoting industrial development, and several new manufacturing concerns owe much to the Chamber for encouragement in inducing their location and establishment here.

Secretary Branch's report speaks more in detail as to that, and it need not be said that no one has been more zealous or keenly active in working for the city than has Mr. Branch. The Chamber now has 217 members, and if there is one thing that the Chamber should do during the coming year, it should be to utilize that membership as a more active force in the Chamber's work, and to reorganize its financial status on a greatly stronger basis. The Chamber is doing a work that is worth financing and it follows that if effective work is to be done it will take money to do it. Wilmington can not expect to have work done for it on the meager financial basis upon which the Chamber is doing its work for the city.

DON'T WISH-WORK.

Those who want big things for Wilmington should not do all the wishing while others do all the work to get what all agree would be of tremendous advantage to the city. All of us want that branch reserve bank for Wilmington, so all of us ought to get behind the campaign committee and help to get what we all want. We ought to put ourselves in a position to give ourselves credit for doing something for Wilmington.

Why not do some of the work by way of co-operating in carrying forward the plans for making Wilmington? Why not share in doing the pulling and share in getting the credit? Most of us heartily commend everything that is done for Wilmington. We can approve and commend while we keep our hands in our pockets, except when we use them to applaud, but our approval and commendation are worth little without actual co-operation. Use at least one hand in taking a hand in doing things and getting things for Wilmington.

Great things for Wilmington can be accomplished by team work—by unity of purpose, by co-operation in effort to achieve something. Only a few do the growling, a few more do the work, and the great majority do the grunting with more or less immense satisfaction. Approval, commendation and grunting do not constitute boosting. That's the hot air that goes along with the steam which does the work. Every Wilmingtonian should be one of the horsepower units of the steam and be a puller in the team work and the steam work. Let us all get our harness on for a strong pull for that regional reserve bank.

Now is the time to get it, but we can't get it without going down after it with the united efforts and earnest purpose of every man in Wilmington. Right now is the time to get that bank or go right on letting some other city get it. Let no summer siesta inveigle you into a hammock till you get almost worn out doing your part in getting a big thing for Wilmington.

If the branch bank committee of the Chamber of Commerce does not see you, see the committee. Don't wait. Work!

CURRENT COMMENT.

North Carolinians inclined to criticise will please note that two-thirds of the graduating class at the Lutheran Theological Seminary came from that benighted commonwealth. They may jower at us politically, but when they wish to Christianize their youth, they know where to come.—Columbia State.

One of the things that has impressed the Masons who are in Newbern this week, is the fact that the ladies of the city are extremely attractive. Naturally Newbern is "The Athens of North Carolina" and it might be supposed that the leading city in the eastern part of the State would have the most beautiful women. They well deserve the praise that has been showered upon them.—Newbern Journal.

The Associated Press confirms the news that Congressman Webb is to succeed Mr. Clayton as chairman of the House Judiciary committee, and that settles it. Mr. Webb has won this promotion by merit and by reason of the established rule governing ranking membership. It is an honor for the people of the district, of the State and of the South.—Charlotte Observer.

Mothers' Day—Sunday, May 10—is to have an added significance this year in that the observance is intended especially to honor the mothers who have given their sons to the nation in the present Mexican crisis. In outward token of the sentiment upon which Mothers' Day is founded, let us fling forth our flags from homes and business houses Saturday and Sunday and make the recognition of the day unanimous. Mother is deserving of a national salute.—Philadelphia Record.

"To the Mayor, P. Q. Moore, and Council, City of Wilmington.

"Gentlemen:—The Tree and Park Commission desire to submit to the Mayor and City Council a statement with regard to the Postoffice Park development.

"Owing to unavoidable delays in beginning the work, it is found to be impracticable to do most of the tree and shrub planting this spring.

Under the direction of the city engineer all walks and entrances have been completed in accordance with the accepted design. The fountain has been constructed and water and hydrant connections made.

"In order to make the place present a neat and attractive appearance during the summer months a border hedge of Biota and some ornamental shrubbery have been put in their proper places.

"While the machinery and material were here it was thought to be wise economy to have the concrete part of the work finished, including the corner posts which constitute an important feature of the design.

"In order to save time in securing a stand of grass it was deemed to be essential that the grading be done while the work was in progress.

"We therefore recommend that this much of the work be completed.

"The best method of securing a stand of grass will be to sow at once cow peas with a little fertilizer. This cover crop will aid in killing out undesirable grass and weeds so that the ground will be in proper condition for seeding in grass next fall.

"The lighting in this area should receive careful attention. The fixtures which are intended to be placed upon the top of the columns should be of such a design as will give the people of the city an idea of modern street lighting, and the fixtures installed to be such as would serve as models for future selection.

"In order that the park receive proper attention during the summer a keeper be employed who could work to advantage for two or three hours a day in watering the hedge, plants, etc., and having a general oversight of the property.

"Respectfully submitted,
"JOHN BLAIR, Chairman.
"ADAM EMPIE,
"KATE GRAINGER,
"Tree and Park Commission."

At the weekly meeting Wednesday a financial report was also submitted to Council, showing the amounts that have been expended on the park, and estimating that the total cost of the development will be from $1,500 to $1,600. Two bills amounting to $879 were approved, and Council voted a further appropriation of $275 to be used in completing the improvements. This amount will come from the park fund.

ALL OLD OFFICERS ELECTED BY CHAMBER

Reports of Committees Read at Annual Meeting Yesterday.

Protest Against Intra-State Freight Rate Bill Again Voiced—Parcel Post Discussed in Some Detail Yesterday.

Following the announcement that all the old officers of the Chamber of Commerce had been re-elected in the balloting which was in progress at the rooms of that body from 10 A. M. until 3 P. M., the reports of the various committees of the organization were read at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The reports showed that the Chamber has had a most successful year and has succeeded in accomplishing much towards the development of the city's commercial affairs.

The Chamber again voiced its protest against the Intra-State freight rate bill which was passed at the recent session of the General Assembly and asked the Freight Rate Commission to give serious consideration to those objections. A resolution introduced by Mr. J. Allan Taylor opposing the further extension of the facilities of the parcel post service for the present provoked warm discussion and was finally referred to the traffic committee for further consideration.

President—M. J. Corbett.

Vice President—Louis E. Hall.

Executive Committee—H. L. Hunt, J. VanB. Metts, W. D. MacMillan, Jr., C. VanLeuven, L. Stein, President Corbett and Vice President Hall.

President Corbett presided over the meeting and following the announcement of the election expressed his appreciation of the honor that had been conferred upon him and his fellow officers. He did not make an extended speech and stated that he would not submit a report as a comprehensive outline of the activities of the Chamber for the past year was contained in the annual reports of the committees.

Differ as to Parcel Post.

While the meeting was noted for its general harmony, there was evidence of a difference of opinion when Mr. J. Allan Taylor offered a resolution opposing the further extension of the the present, provoked warm discussion. resolution set forth that the government should not take up active work in a line that is clearly commercial and that the facilities offered by the Parcel Post at the present are sufficiently adequate to care for all necessary needs. The government should not undertake to extend the package limit to include larger packages than are now carried, said he. Many reasons were given why the government should not undertake domestic commerce.

Mr. D. L. Gore said that so far as he was concerned he was willing for the parcel post to go ahead. Mr. J. G. McCormick moved that it go to the traffic committee for consideration. Mr. Hugh MacRae thought that the parcel post was the most wholesome thing that has been done in a long time. He explained that it serves a great many people in the rural districts who do not have express service. Mr. M. W. Jacobi thought that the matter should go to a committee. He thought that prejudice should never actuate anyone in dealing with corporations. He was sure that the parcel post is a good thing.

Mr. Taylor explained that his resolution was not aimed at the Parcel Post as now carried on, but was simply designed to protest against the Postmaster General extending the limit of weight of packages larger and larger, making it necessary eventually for the government to put up warehouses and add much to its present machinery. He was perfectly willing, he said, for the matter to go to the committee.

Intra-State Freight Bill.

Mr. Taylor called attention to the manifest injustice of the Intra-State Freight Rate bill and thought that something ought to be done by Wilmington to protest against the bill as it now exists, and these objections made known to the Freight Rate Commission. Otherwise, it would be assumed, he said, that Wilmington was in favor of the bill; in fact, the whole fabric of the law is made to indicate that the public is in favor of it and that if anybody is opposed to it it is the railroads. He introduced the following resolution, which was seconded by Mr. MacRae and adopted unanimously:

"The Intra-State Freight bill, now under consideration by the Legislative Freight Rate Commission, is revolutionary in many of its features, and should receive the most serious attention of the public. This measure was enacted at the special session of the General Assembly under conditions not altogether favorable to judicious legislation, and its reference to a commission is evidence of the desire of the General Assembly to put into operation no measure not advantageous to general interests. The examination of this measure should be approached without prejudice or preconceived conclusions, for it would be a grave error to hold that the approval of the measure in its present shape involves loyalty to the authority that enacted it; on the contrary, it is due to the enacting authority, not less than to the general public, that the Commission employ every means for arriving at justice and equity, and we believe that it is discharging its duty in this spirit.

"The freight rate fabric of the State undoubtedly contains many inequalities, which it is the general interest to have removed and we favor a readjustment of rates to a scientific basis. However, we cannot endorse the bill in its present shape, and call attention to these salient objections:

"The bill needlessly reduces rates for short distances; makes reductions for greater distances comparatively less; disrupts the influence of water competition; destroys common points, and in other respects would be injurious if put into operation in its present form.

"We commend to the Freight Rate Commission serious consideration of these objections, to the end that justice may be done all interests affected, and observe that freight rates should be only so high as to yield an adequate revenue to the carriers, and only so low as to encourage commercial development."

Insurance Committee Report.

The report of the Insurance committee which was prepared by the chairman, Mr. M. S. Willard, was read and after stating that there has been nothing referred to the committee for the past year, continues as follows:

"The only thing which seems advisable for the committee to do at present is to call the attention of this organization to the insurance investigation which has been held at Raleigh at intervals since the adjournment of the last General Assembly. The last Legislature appointed a commission to investigate insurance conditions through the State, and this commission has had a number of persons before them giving testimony.

"It is to be feared that the result of this investigation may work embarrassment, if not positive injury, to the business interests of the State. It has probably been called to your notice during the last few months into what a distracted condition the State of Kentucky has been thrown by very rabid legislation affecting insurance companies represented in Kentucky, to withdraw from the State entirely, and a serious condition exists.

"It is to be hoped that the Commission in North Carolina will not be dominated by the views of politicians but will consider what will be effected by any drastic legislation. A meeting of the commission is soon to be held in Raleigh, which it is understood will be the final meeting. It might be well for someone representing the Chamber of Commerce to be present at the meeting. Of course, if there are any irregularities in the insurance business in the State, they should be corrected, but matters of this sort can be usually left to work themselves out by the application of sound business sense. It does not appear to your committee that there is any need at present for any radical disturbance of insurance conditions, and if this be the view of the Chamber, we believe that it would be well for this opinion to be thus presented to the Insurance Investigating Committee.

Report of Banking Committee.

Following is the report of the Banking Committee of which Mr. H. C. McQueen is chairman:

"During the past year the Banking and Currency Committee has not taken up any special business except the question of a Branch of the Reserve Bank of the Fifth district.

"This question is a very important one, and in co-operation with the other commercial and financial organizations of the city, we hope to accomplish the purpose. As the Parent Bank has not been organized yet, it will necessarily be some time before any definite report can be made. In the meantime, the joint committee representing the different bodies are actively at work getting together data, etc., upon which to base the city's claim for recognition when the time comes to make a showing. I think we can assure the Chamber of Commerce that everything possible will be done to accomplish our object, but other cities are making strong efforts for it."

Civic Committee.

Following is the report of the Civic Committee of which Mr. John J. Blair is chairman.

"I have the honor of submitting a report for the Civic Committee for the current year. The Committee has appreciated the opportunity which such a body of ours posseses(, and each member has made use individually of whatever opportunity may have presented itself to promote in the name of the Chamber of Commerce the varied interests of the city of Wilmington.

"Last Fall the Committee appeared before the Council and suggested that a Tree and Park Commission be appointed who should be charged with the care of shade trees, plazas and parks, and aid the development of streets in every manner possible. A plan was also submitted in the interest of improvement of the approaches along the right of way of the different railroad lines coming into the city.

"Some work has been done in this direction, but there remains yet an opportunity for the city and railway companies by a united effort to effect a much-needed improvement in the appearance and condition of thees public thoroughfares.

"The Civic Committee recommends that this development be taken up with the proper authorities; that the work be definitely mapped out so that through the united efforts of the city and railway companies this much-needed public improvement may be pushed to a successful and satisfactory culmination.

"The Committee are still of the opinion that an effort should be made to employ a city architect, whose duty it shall be to provide a plan for the methodical extension and development of the city limits, comprizing in this plan the new High School building and grounds, a civic center and the proper laying out of all parks, playgrounds, and boulevards, which are

BELL SUBMITS TO MURDER

Enters Plea of Guilty in Second Degree—Grand Jury Investigating Escape of Convicts.

A plea of guilty of second degree murder was entered in Superior Court yesterday morning by King Bell, colored, charged with killing Ben Richmond, alias Burr Richardson, colored, on April 3rd, but sentence will not be imposed until today or tomorrow. The plea was submitted by W. P. Gafford, Esq., counsel for the defendant. This was acceptable to Solicitor Lyon.

The entire day yesterday was taken up with the trial of George Evans, Carrie D. Hankins, Victoria Lofton and Addie Anderson, all colored, charged with forging an alleged bogus will. All of the evidence was heard yesterday and the argument of counsel begun. W. J. Bellamy, Esq., counsel for the defendant, and Solicitor Lyon, spoke yesterday afternoon and the arguments will be concluded this morning with speeches by Hon. John D. Bellamy, attorney for the defense, and by A. G. Ricaud, Esq., who is assisting the prosecution.

The grand jury is still in session and it is understood that an extensive investigation is being made of the large number of escapes that have been made from the county convict camps within the last year or so. A large number of true bills against convicts that have escaped and are still at large have been brought in by the jury. it is probable that the jury will make its report today.

The case against the ten local dairymen, charged with violating the State anti-trust law, will be called some time today, Solicitor Lyon stated yesterday. There are a number of minor cases on the docket yet to be disposed of, but it is probable that they will all be tried today.

CAME TO BLOWS ON STREET

Mr. Hugh MacRae and Councilman T. W. Wood Engaged in Personal Encounter Yesterday.

Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the Tidewater Power Company, and Councilman T. W. Wood engaged in a fistic encounter on North Front street, in front of the store of the People's Supply Company, yesterday shortly after noon. They were parted by Mr. Cuthbert Martin, who came out of the store and interfered before either had sustained any serious damage, though Mr. Wood had a cut over one eye, and several bruises on his face.

Once before, at a meeting of City Council some weeks ago, Mr. MacRae and Mr. Wood were on the point of engaging in a personal encounter, but were prevented by others present.

Mr. MacRae and Mr. L. W. Moore were standing in front of the People's Supply Company yesterday when Councilman Wood passed. Mr. Moore called to Mr. Wood and he joined them. The conversation was with reference to remarks made by Councilman Wood relative to the opposition of the real estate men of the city to the petition which Mr. Wood is circulating calling for special elections on a municipal electric light plant and deep well water supply, Mr. Wood having said that he believed the real estate men who protested against the elections were all stockholders in the Tidewater Power Company. Words between Mr. MacRae and Mr. Wood ensued, and the encounter followed.

Both gave out statements of the matter yesterday. Mr. MacRae, in his statement, had the following to say:

"I was talking to Mr. L. W. Moore about the road which the county expects to build to Greenville. We stopped in the shade of the awning of the People's Supply Company on Front street. Just then Mr. Wood came walking past. Mr. Moore said to him: "'Mr. Wood, you complimented us real estate men very much in your statement in the City Council meeting yesterday, when you said we were interested in the Tidewater Power Co. I have no interest in the Tidewater Power Company, I and I don't believe the others have.'

'Mr. Wood then came up and began to explain what his statement to Council meant. He said he had been attacked by the real estate men and that his answer was that he was always ready to meet an attack, but had no enmity toward anyone.

"I told Mr. Wood he was laboring under a misapprehension, and referred to the fact that conditions in Jacksonville, Fla., where the city does all the lighting, are entirely different from what would be the conditions here where we would come into competition, that, while it might cause the Tidewater Power Company to lose money, it would be impossible for the city to make money. I told him I was willing to wager $1,000 to $10 that the city would not make money under the circumstances. Mr. Wood said that he had never bet but $5 in his life and that he had lost that, and did not care to bet on the subject."

"Mr. Wood made the statement that he had no personal feelings against the Tidewater Power Company, but I pointed out that this was not correct, because he had tried to influence a certain real estate agent representing interests at Carolina Place to bring suit against the Tidewater for not making an extension to Carolina Place, when Mr. Wood knew at the time that the reason we had not made the extension was because the right to make a connection at 17th and Market streets had been withheld by City Council unless the Tidewater would consent to a clause in the franchise which would penalize the company.

"Mr. Wood got excited and tried to explain his position and made a very clear impression upon me that he wanted to fight. As he made a similar impression upon me once before at a meeting of the City Council and he used language I considered abusive, I decided on the spur of the moment to meet him half way in the matter. I handed my glasses to Mr. Moore and Mr. Wood did the same thing, at that time gesticulating and talking excitedly. I had either to go at him or to back down.

"There is nothing more to the story except that Mr. Cuthbert Martin came out and separated us. I naturally feel sorry over the occurrence.

"The controversy with Mr. Wood was entirely foreign to my mind when he came up, and I have no other feeling toward him except that he had a monomania which he is following and is going to continue to follow without having the necessary breadth of view to judge of all the factors to be involved, but a serious calamity would come to the community, in my opinion, if they follow out the policies to which Mr. Wood is wedded.

"To sum up, I considered that Mr. Wood for the second time invited me to a physical encounter, and while I did not seek such an encounter, I was unwilling to accept abusive language from him.

"The facts with reference to Mr. Moore's words, and his part in the conversation, are related by Mr. Wood substantially as outlined by Mr. MacRae. Mr. Wood also said in addition:

"I told Mr. Moore that I had nothing against him, or the other real estate agents, and Mr. Moore assured me that he had only a feeling of friendship for me.

"Mr. MacRae then took up the conversation and accused me of things which I denied. He said that I had it in for the Tidewater Power Company, and was working against the company on grounds of personal animosity. To this I replied that no personal feeling had entered into the matter at all, that I was simply carrying out the wishes of the people, in giving them an opportunity to pass upon the question of a municipally-owned electric light plant.

"He then accused me of trying to influence persons at Carolina Place to bring suit against the Tidewater for not making an extension to that part of the city. I denied this, but told him exactly what my part in the matter was. I told him that quite a number of residents there had been to me and asked why the extension had not been made to Carolina Place. They asked my advice on the matter, and I finally told them that if the Tidewater would not make the extensions, I thought the only thing left for them to do was to engage a lawyer to represent them in the matter, and to try to force the company to build the line.

"I told Mr. MacRae that I had circulated the petition asking for a line through Carolina Place, and that was why the people came to me for advice on the matter.

"Mr. MacRae then, in a sarcastic way, I thought, accused me of having published an article in The Dispatch relative to the municipal electric light plant of Cleveland. I said that I did not, and knew nothing about it until it was published, and called to my attention. I told Mr. MacRae that if he was not willing to take my word about this to ask the editor if such were not the facts.

"He continued to assert that I had it in for him and the Tidewater Power Company. I stood it as long as I thought I could, and finally I said: '——— this thing has got to stop.' He took off his glasses and handed them to Mr. Moore. took off my glasses and as soon as I did that he struck me. I ran in and grabbed him, and he then struck me several more times. He had some kind of set ring on his finger that cut me over the eye, otherwise I did not feel any noticeable effect from the blows, as we were quite close to each other.

"A Mr. Hughes, of Charleston, who was nearby and saw it all, says that I did not strike Mr. MacRae or try to strike him. Mr. Moore was present all the time, but Mr. Cuthbert Martin came out of the People's Supply Company and parted us.

"As to the occurrence at the Council meeting sometime ago, I am willing to let those who were present say who was to blame for the."

STRONG SERMON LAST NIGHT

Dr. Thacker Preached on Subject, "What is Success"—Large Attendance Continues.

"What is Success?" was the subject of Dr. J. Ernest Thacker's sermon at the union evangelistic service at the First Presbyterian church last night, largely attended despite the threatening aspect of the weather, and featured by, in addition to a strong and eloquent sermon, the singing led by Mr. Fisher, with Mrs. Fisher as accompanist.

Dr. Thacker took for his text, Matt. 37:42, "He saved others, Himself He cannot save." He compared the success of John the Baptist with that of Herod, the latter accumulated wealth and power and all the worldly tokens of affluence and success, yet with it all he was not a success. John the Baptist, on the other hand, devoted his life to the service of his fellow man, and pointed the way to the kingdom, and though he lost his life by Herod's act, nevertheless he was a success. That is not success which is so in its outward appearances and that is not success which is gained on doubtful principles.

Success, the evangelist pointed out, was that good purpose which is conducted on right principles to a profitable and durable conclusion. He compared Jesus, hanging on the Cross that He might lead up to God, to the blacksmith who grappled with and overcame a mad dog to save some little children, and then realizing that he would contract the animal's mania, chained himself to his own anvil that in his madness he might not do harm to others.

Success, Dr. Thacker said, must be prosperity, and the Church is successful. It is the most prosperous institution in all the world. He cited the growth of the Christian church through the different ages and showed this to be so.

Success must also be enduring, and the soul which Jesus saves today is not lost tomorrow, but is saved for all time. Jesus was willing to hang on the cross for us, and every knee should bow to Him and every tongue confess Him.

Man, the evangelist declared, was wont to look upon the outward appearances, but God looked upon the heart; we judge by what we want and not by what we need. A real great purpose in life is what we must have if we strive for the highest success.

The centuries pass and witness the downfall of the Pagan, the Greek and the Roman rule, but the glory of God fills the world today as never before.

At the early service this morning at 8:20 o'clock, Dr. Thacker will speak on the subject, "The Principles of Peace," while his subject for the service tonight will be "The Supreme Tragedy of the 20th Century."

FUNERAL OF MISS MILLER.

Aged Lady Fatally Burned in Charlotte—Died Wednesday Night.

The funeral of Miss Mary Miller, aged 70, whose death occurred at her home in Charlotte Wednesday night at 7 o'clock, was conducted yesterday evening at 6 o'clock from St. James' Episcopal church by the rector, Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton. Interment was in the family plot in Oakdale cemetery. The remains arrived here yesterday at noon and were taken to the church from the train.

She was fatally burned while attempting to find some object in the dark by means of a lighted match. It is supposed that in holding the match above her head a celluloid comb was ignited. She was a woman of many Christian virtues and on account of her lovely disposition had a host of friends. She was the daughter of the late T. C. Miller, a wealthy rice planter of this section many years ago.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Johnston Jones, of Los Angeles, Ca., and Mrs. Frank Waddell, of Biltmore.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Milton Calder, F. A. Lord, M. A. Curtis, C. C. Covington, R. C. James and S. M. Boatwright.

FUNERAL OF DR. BULLUCK.

Services from Grace Methodist Church This Afternoon.

The funeral of Dr. D. W. Bulluck, whose death occurred at his home, No. 309 North Fourth street Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, will be conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock from Grace Methodist church by Rev. Dr. R. C. Beaman, a former pastor of the church and a devoted and lifelong friend of Dr. Bulluck, assisted by Rev. L. E. Thompson, presiding elder of the Wilmington district, and Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church. Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Although Dr. Bulluck had been seriously ill for a week and it was known for several days that there was little hope for him to survive, his death nevertheless came as a severe shock to his hundreds of friends in this city. He was widely known and many from out of the city sent telegrams of condolence to the grief-stricken family yesterday.

MR. LOUIS L. SHOLAR DEAD.

Former Resident Drowned at Austin, Tex., Sunday.

News has been received in the city of the drowning of Mr. Louis I. Sholar Sunday night in Austin, Tex., where he had been engaged in construction work on a big dam. As yet, no details have been received as to how the drowning occurred. Mr. Sholar was born in Wilmington, and was 41 years of age. Surviving him are his mother, Mrs. S. J. Sholar; four sisters, Mrs. J. R. Hanby, Mrs. Benj. E. Adams and Miss Susie Sholar, all of Wilmington, and Mrs. Farley R. Wells, of Savannah, Ga.; also one brother, Mr. A. M. Sholar, of Burgaw.

The remains are being brought to this city for interment. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

FRONT STREET REALTY DEAL.

Residential Property Between Nun and Church Sold.

Fowler his residence and the adjoining house on the east side of Front, between Nun and Church streets, the consideration being approximately $14,000. Each lot is 66x170 feet in size, and both houses are handsome, substantial residences.

Dr. Campbell is a well known traveling man, who makes his home here. He represents a large drug concern. It was not stated whether he would make his home in one of the houses, or whether he would rent both of them out.

In connection with the sale, it is understood that Mr. Fowler will shortly remove from Wilmington to Sumter, S. C., where he will engage in the mercantile business. He has a son-in-law located there now. Mr. Fowler has been well known in public life here, having served one term as mayor of the city, and also as chief of police. At the present time he is the coroner for New Hanover county. He has a host of friends here who will regret to see him leave Wilmington.

Pretty Spring flowers decorated the reception room, and while no set forms of decoration were used other than a blending of Spring colors, the interior decoration of the home was very pronounced in its artistic beauty.

CAPT. W. R. MORGAN WEDS MISS MARGARET E. EXUM.

Goldsboro, N. C., May 7.—At 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs W. P. Exum, occurred the marriage of two of Goldsboro's well known, highly esteemed and popular young people, Capt. N. R. Morgan and Miss Margaret E. Exum, culminating a long romantic courtship in the linking together of two lives—sweethearts from childhood—Rev. John Hallowell Dicknson, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of this city, officiating.

Capt. S. Cohen acted as best man and Miss Mabel Kornegay, of Mount Olive, as maid of honor. The happy event came unannounced and the ceremony, in all its impressive beauty, sweet simplicity and religious solemnity, was performed in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties and a few invited friends.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. and the late Dr. W. P. Exum and is a young lady of exceptional social culture and rare musical talent, the pride and delight of her host of friends and the joy of her large circle of kindred. The groom is the son of Rev. A. R. Morgan, of this city, and well and favorably known in military and business circles, possessed of wide and valued experience and refinement, having traveled over a good portion of the globe. He was a resident of Japan for a number of years and is at present associated with the Goldsboro rice mills of this city.

MISS GRACE WEBBER WEDS MR. B. R. McCLELLAN.

The following from yesterday's Charlotte Observer will be of interest to many friends in the city:

"Miss Mary Grace Webber and Mr. Richard Baxter McClellan were married at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Webber, 824 North Church street. Rev. Father Jerome, of St. Peter's Catholic Church, performed the ceremony with impressiveness.

"The scene was one of much beauty. The wedding vows were assumed before a beautifully banked altar of snowballs, lilies of the valley and roses in the parlor of the residence. Only the immediate relatives of the young people were present.

"Miss Webber wore a dress of white China silk trimmed in princess lace. As the bridal couple entered the room the 'Bridal Chorus' from Lohengring was played by the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles M. Cowell. The 'Flower Song' was played during the ceremony.

"After the wedding those present were guests at an elaborate repast in the dining room. A feature of this was the cutting of a large wedding cake, the gift of the Elks of Wilmington. Beautiful flowers accompanied the cake. After the luncheon Mr. McClellan and his bride left on the 3:25 train over the Seaboard for the western part of the State where they will spend a few days of their honeymoon. On their return they will be at home at the residence of the bride's parents.

"The bride is a young woman of high inrtnisic worth and attractive traits that have won the devotion of many friends. Mr. McClellan is the highly efficient mailing clerk of The Observer. He is a young man of ability and energy. During his several years' service with The Observer, he has often been tried and never found wanting, either in the exacting duties of his post or in loyalty to the paper and to his associates, and as a result he is held in affectionate regard by each and all of them."

AN APPRECIATION.

Tribute to the Late Dr. David William Bulluck.

Here and there, throughout the city of Wilmington, its rural districts and adjacent counties, and indeed throughout the entire State, hundreds of people are going about today with sad hearts, and bowed heads, because death has taken away our beloved Dr. D. W. Bulluck.

Our genial, kindly, sympathetic friend, our wise counsellor, our brave and noble exemplar, has entered into his rest; and we who knew him well feel that we are indeed bereft.

He was a most gallant, good, upright and Christian gentleman. He loved all things that were pure and beautiful. He delighted in little children, flowers, art and high toned literature.

He loved his friends, and was never too weary or too busy to give the best that he was capable of to them and their needs.

The doors of his big, generous heart, and of his delightful home, were always wide open for them; and for them he was princely in his hospitality.

He loved his noble profession, and practiced it with an absorbing interest, and an indomitable energy, but he was never so happy as when serving the poor, with Christ-like patience; or when performing for them those wonderful modern miracles of surgery without any hope of remuneration.

His love for his family was an adoration; and his home life was so beautiful that it was refreshing to come under its beneficent influences. Above all he loved his God.

He was a firm believer in the holy religion of our Lord—and an humble follower of the meek and lowly Nazarene.

For although he was endowed with magnificent intellect, a strong brain, and wonderful thinking and reasoning powers; and although he hesitated not to read from all points of view; searching and researching through the widest range of gathered opinions from the most eminent writers, yet, after all, he was enabled to accept with the sweet simplicity of a little child, the atonement which had been made for him by our Lord Jesus Christ. This fact is our comfort today—for those of us who will miss his kindly smile, gentle voice and hearty hand clasp can be assured that he has heard the "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Registration for Bond Election Will Close Saturday.

Tomorrow is the last day in which to register for the election to be held on May 19th to determine the question of issuing $200,000 in bonds for municipal docks. The registrars are required by law to be at the regular polling places for the various precincts all day tomorrow. They may be found today at their residences or at their places of business.

The registration is expected to be quite heavy as both those working for and against the proposition are working hard to get all the names possible on the books. By registering and failing to vote counts as a vote against the bond issue.

PLANS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Work of Preparing Wreaths for Deceased Soldiers of Confederacy Will Begin This Afternoon.

The work of making laurel wreaths for the graves of deceased Confederate soldiers which will be used Sunday afternoon in the memorial exercises will begin this afternoon at the lodge at Oakdale cemetery. The members of the Cape Fear chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, under whose auspices the exercises will be held, will meet at the cemetery this afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock.

The memorial address Sunday afternoon will be made by T. C. Wooten, Esq., a well known member of the local bar. Following the address and the impressive services at the lodge house at Oakdale cemetery, the grave of each Confederate soldier will be decorated with a laurel wreath in token of the honor due them for their brave and patriotic services. The services will begin at 5 o'clock and will be attended by the Cape Fear Camp of Confederate veterans and members of the W. L. I., who will march to the cemetery in a body.

The committee on arrangements, of which Mrs. T. E. Sprunt is chairman, will meet again tomorrow morning at the lodge house at Oakdale cemetery and will remain there all day or until all the wreaths necessary are made. They will be glad to have as many as will to assist them in this work. It is desired to have the wreaths completed tomorrow so that it will not be necessary to do anything Sunday except place them on the graves.

At 9 A. M. tomorrow a conveyance will begin running back and forth to the cemetery for the use of those who will be taking part in the work.

Class A College Endorsed.

"Whereas, it is known to this Federation of Women's Clubs that there does exist in our State a class A college for women.

"Therefore, Be it resolved, That we, the Federation of Women's Clubs of North Carolina, are heartily in favor of class A colleges for women and wish to go on record as lending the might of our influence as an organized body of women toward the establishment and encouraging of such wherever possible in our State.

"Whereas, the activities of the civic department have grown too numerous for one person to manage in all parts of the State and whereas the present committee system is unsatisfactory.

"Therefore, Be it resolved, That the department of civics be organized by having a sub chairman appointed from each district of our federation.

"Resolved, That the investigation of the economic status of women public school teachers be continued as a part of a committee, to be called the Economic Status of Women in North Carolina, and that the special study to be emphasized by this committee this year, shall be the economic status of girls who work in ten cent stores and girls who serve in telephone exchanges."

As to Finances.

The chairman of the committee offered the following resolution which was adopted:

"The trustees of the endowment fund recommend that, whereas the treasurer of the federation each year is compelled to borrow money, or be in debt, that for this year only part of the interest of the endowment fund should be given to the treasurer to cover the deficit in expense and save unnecessary bookkeeping."

With the Pharmacists.

Miss Edith Royster, chairman of the committee on the economic status of women, presented her report and had for distribution a number of pamphlets prepared by two young lawyers of Raleigh on the subject. She noted with pride the great freedom of women in North Carolina from injustice as compared with their status in other States. A request from the dean of the pharmaceutical department of the State University was presented. This request has received the approval of the council. It is as follows:

"That the federation endorse the efforts of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association and the State Board of Pharmacy, to secure preliminary high school training and at least nine months' of technical training to practice pharmacy."

ULSTER'S DECIDED STAND MAKING HISTORY

By JOHN J. BREEN.

THE home rule for Ireland bill still is bothering the biggest men in Great Britain. Although the second reading of the measure was carried in the house of commons by a majority of eighty, it cannot be said that any great progress has been made toward a final settlement. The fact remains, however, that the bill has passed its most crucial stage in three successive sessions, as required by the parliament act. Its supporters calculate that it will be on the statute book in the latter part of June.

Following the army crisis, the press reflected a condition of bewildered excitement. Public opinion was so confused by the complexity of the situation and the clamor of partisans that it was unable to think clearly. Everything seemed to indicate the probability that really vital issues would be swamped by the swelling battle cries of the opposing factions which were engaged in maneuvering for electioneering positions. It was clear that serious problems had been created by the well meant blundering of Seely and Morley and that they were being distorted for purposes of party warfare. There was no possible doubt as to what the country's answer would be if the government went to the country with an election cry of the army versus the people, but it was realized that this cry was impossible because the army never refused or is likely to refuse to obey orders.

The position of the Unionists was difficult. They found themselves compelled to insist the army should not be required to carry out the political schemes of a transient party majority in cases where the community is evidently divided to the verge of civil war. Harold Cox, in the Daily Graphic, in upholding this view drew attention to the striking parallel between the present crisis and the struggle which preceded the reform bills of 1832, when the Duke of Wellington proposed to use the army for the suppression of the covenanters, but the troops declined to give their services to destroy the liberties of their fellow countrymen. In these days, however, it was the Liberals who claimed the right of soldiers confronted with civil war to exercise their private judgment, while the Tories at that time desired to use the army to coerce a portion of the nation.

The Unionist papers generally laid stress on the fact that Lord Roberts, in the house of lords, and Lord Charles Beresford, in the house of commons, plainly warned the government that the army and navy both would be shaken to their foundations if ordered to move against the loyalists of Ulster. Furthermore, they pointed out that the Ulster covenanters' movement is essentially democratic and sympathy between it and the army is due to human nature, which is beyond the control of politicians.

Applauded Attack on King.

Despite Mr. Asquith's categorial statement that the king's attitude throughout was consistently constitutional, the radical press heartily applauded the speech of John Ward, labor member of parliament, wherein he passionately denounced all interference by the king or the army with decisions of parliament.

At the same time the radical organs did not conceal their opinion that home rule is chiefly important because without the Irish vote it will be impossible to carry the parliament act.

Blatchford, the veteran Socialist leader, writing in his organ, the Clarion, expressed frank disgust with the whole situation and mocked "this warlike cabinet of lawyers fooling about with squadrons and guns." Himself for twenty-seven years a home ruler, he expressed the hope that Ulster will win because the British people won't stand for armed coercion of the province and because the army was justified in refusing to be used for such purposes. But, he added, why did the army not resent being used for the purposes of capitalists in South Africa and concludes with the statement that the present example in Ulster will not be wasted on the working classes.

Following the last vote on the home rule measure in the house of commons, Andrew Bonar Law, the opposition leader, professed to see hardly any hope of a peaceful settlement and predicted civil war if the government persists in pushing the bill through, yet he declared that he and his colleagues would gladly accept a proposal for the renewing of the conversations with the government leaders, though he feared nothing would come of it. He added:

"The Unionists are ready to make every reasonable sacrifice to avoid the calamity of civil strife. There are only two ways whereby that can be averted. One is the exclusion of Ulster from the bill; the other an appeal to the people."

Irish Secretary Birrell in reply said he was amazed at the patience displayed by the Nationalists in Ulster county under great provocation. It shows that there is no need of civil war to effect a settlement of the question, he declared.

QUEEN TO VISIT UNITED STATES

KING AND QUEEN OF BULGARIA AND PUBLIC SQUARE AND MONUMENT TO ALEXANDER II. IN SOFIA, BULGARIA.

QUEEN ELEONORE of Bulgaria, royal trained nurse, progressive and philanthropist, has completed arrangements for her five weeks' tour of the United States. She plans to reach New York city the last week in May or the first week in June. She will go as far west at least as Rochester, Minn., to visit a sanitarium there. She will bring with her four young women, graduates of the American College For Girls at Constantinople, to take courses here to become trained nurses and will probably take back to Bulgaria teachers of nursing to found schools for trained nurses in Bulgaria. The queen took entire charge of Bulgaria's hospitals during the wars. She owns three hospitals. She is also coming here to study immigration methods. Bulgaria has 250,000 Macedonian immigrants, and the queen knows that the United States understands how to treat immigrants. Her majesty wishes to learn these methods.

Queen Eleonore is a daughter of the late Prince Heinrich IV, and the Princess Edward of Saxe-Altenburg, nee Princess of Reuss, and was born in 1860. Having a naturally energetic nature and an ardent desire to do some good work in the world, she became a Red Cross sister, and during the war between Russia and Japan she worked among the sick and wounded after having, like Queen Amelie of Portugal, taken the regular course of training in first aid. She is the second wife of King Ferdinand and is extremely popular in Bulgaria, as well as being an affectionate stepmother to the king's children by his first marriage. One of her first actions after her marriage was to have portraits of her husband's first wife placed in all the children's rooms in the palace at Sofia and quantities of that princess' favorite flowers arranged under them.

Friends of Bulgaria and others acquainted with royal ceremony and etiquette are somewhat worried over the visit of the queen. It is not that they think the queen will not be welcomed by Americans, but that they see in the manner of her coming, and, above all, in her mission, possibilities of grave complications.

Of course the queen, and, in fact, all of her court, know nothing at all, from personal experience, about America and Americans, American institutions and manners of life. This has prompted many genuine friends of Bulgaria and her majesty to fear the possibility of her being annoyed by some unscrupulous person or persons eager to exploit her visit for their own ends or that she may be exposed to other humiliating and disagreeable experiences. Ever since the queen broached her tentative plan for a trip to America to Colvin B. Brown, commissioner to Bulgaria from the Panama-Pacific exposition, the queen's interest in the subject has increased, but, so far as is known, her original intention to make her visit an unofficial one has not been altered, despite advice to the contrary. Nothing that she will say will be official.

One story concerning the queen's trip that has been published by newspapers has caused her sincere pain and, moreover, is entirely misleading. Although her majesty is coming here for the purpose of refuti[ng] brought against Bulgar[ian] allies, she is not going [to] money for her suffering [people] will speak in Carnegie [Hall, in] York, it is understood, [not] the other larger cities [of the country]. But her addresses will [be delivered] cially invited audiences [and will be] the nature of semipubli[c reception in] the different big cities.

WALTON

I. W. W. WORRYING NEW YORK

NEW YORK CITY, which at first took lightly the demonstrations of the Industrial Workers of the World, suddenly awoke to the fact that it was confronted with the most serious uprising that a revolutionary element has made in this country since the demonstration in Chicago in 1886, which ended in the conflict between the police and the revolutionists in Haymarket square, the throwing of the famous bomb and the hanging of the anarchist leaders.

While many things have been charged against the New York police department, it never has been accused of cowardice. In fact, the force, for bravery, is regarded as the peer of any department in the world. It looked as if the I. W. W. movement would be short lived when a couple of hundred bluecoats sailed into a mob of several thousand and scattered the agitators and their sympathizers right and left and hauled their leaders into court. But, although Tannenbaum, one of the leaders, has been sent to prison, others were freed by police magistrates, who decided that the police in their wholesale raids had exceeded their authority.

Tannenbaum and his associates at first undertook to hold their meetings in a hall, but did not have money enough to keep them up. They then resorted to open air meetings, and the idea of moving on to the churches grew out of that. It was an inspiration of the Ferrer school boys. It is the Ferrer school at 63 West One Hundred and Seventh street, New York, that is held responsible for this "dramatic gesture of the unemployed." The school has been described by its president, Mr. Abbott, as a "laboratory in which new social theories are tested. It is the first institution," he says, "devoted to the constructive side of anarchism. It is less than four years old, and it is turning out and is intended to turn out graduates filled with a settled discontent with the present social system and a determination to end it."

The Hebrew trades and the Socialists called a conference of the unemployed, but when it was held the radical element of the I. W. W. and the anarchists appeared and took possession of the meeting, and the Socialists and the Hebrew trades withdrew. This was the night Tannenbaum was arrested, and since then the extremists have been in full control of the movement. When the young leaders were arrested the work was carried on by men like them. The capture of one of these youthful disturbers simply made a breach into which another was ready to step. Thus the movement grew.

These young men are not of the ignorant type that one would expect. The most prominent of them, with the exception of Tannenbaum, are men of education and culture. Some of them are writers, poets and artists.

Aside from Tannenbaum the most prominent are Joe O'Carroll and Douglas Dixon. Adolph Wolff is called the "poet of the movement." Dixon studied at Cambridge university. O'Carroll comes of excellent people in Dublin. He is unemployed and has tuberculosis. His parents induced priests in this country to interest themselves in him, but O'Carroll, because of his beliefs, resisted their aid and joined the Ferrer school boys. All three are poets—of the class of "intellectual proletarians" of which Emma Goldman speaks. Wolff is a sculptor as well as a poet.

"He," said Mr. Abbott, "is the first creative spirit that has come out of the Ferrer school. His poems were written at my literary class."

The leaders of the anarchists and the I. W. W. kept ostentatiously out of the movement at first, but were delighted with it, not merely because it was in line with their ideas, but because it was a fulfillment of the hope they had always entertained—that by the constant sowing of discontent the younger element would at last rise itself, without waiting for leaders. It had always been their dream to bring about social changes, as one of them expresses it, "through the workingmen themselves, as opposed to the Socialist conception, which does everything through the state."

Through all the twenty-one years since Emma Goldman was sentenced to jail for her vain effort to disturb the apathy of the unemployed, this had been her dream. She was delighted when she saw, as she believed, a beginning of an approximation toward reality, and she, like Haywood of the I. W. W., stayed out and let them have full swing.

There was much jubilation among the members of the "army of the unemployed" over the action of Magistrate Freschi, sitting in the chief magistrate's court in the old Mulberry street station, in discharging Wild Joe O'Carroll, the I. W. W. leader, who, with eight companions, was arrested when he started to lead a "parade of protest" from Union square to Rutgers square. The charge made against the men by the police was disorderly conduct. Magistrate Freschi in dismissing the complaint against O'Carroll arraigned the police for what he termed their brutality and advised counsel for the defendant to prosecute the policeman.

NEW YORK POLICE CHARGING THE I. W. W.

Four of O'Carroll's followers were also arraigned before the magistrate. Adolph Wolff and Vincenzo Minelli were found guilty and held pending an investigation of their stories by a probation officer. Joe Gans, arrested for carrying an incendiary banner, was fined $10. Samuel Rapaport, who testified that his only offense was his refusal to "move on" when ordered to do so by the police, was discharged from custody.

At police headquarters the decision of Magistrate Freschi in the O'Carroll case was at first received with gloomy silence, but it was evident that the police feared that the release of the agitator—easily the most prominent figure in the trials—might lead to further disorder.

JACQUES KNICKERBOCKER.

THEATRICAL

Led by the prince and princess of society dances, Miss Helen Clark and Mr. Hubert Kinney, a great bill opened at the Victoria Theatre yesterday, and caught the fancy of the large audiences directly on the start.

Without doubt Miss Clark and Mr. Kinney are the best tango artists, as well as most expert exponents of the maxixe, hesitation and one-step ever seen in Wilmington. As one enthusiastic onlooker well expressed it "they are the danciest dancers ever." Besides a great treat in seeing their act, these two artists are going to afford the people of Wilmington chance at free instructions. After the matinee this afternoon the stage of the Victoria, with curtain down, will be converted into a dancing academy and Miss Clark and Mr. Kinney will take pleasure in showing Victoria-goers the latest steps.

Murray's Pets are topliners, and it's the most wonderful trained dog act ever seen in Wilmington. There is a dog that actually sings, think of that, and then there's another that walks the tight wire, falls (purposely) but catches himself by his front paws, pulls himself back on the wire and continues to walk and do tricks.

There is another act that will please the youngsters, as well as grown-ups. It's Verni, the noted ventriloquist, who presents a big novelty in his performance. Kelly and Kelly, the well known comedians and dancers, are also starring and greatly pleasing. Of course, new films and new orchestral numbers.

At The Grand Today.

You can put it in your pipe and smoke, that today is going to be a phenomenal one for all Grand devotees, whose name is legion. Today's bill at the same old price of 5 cents admission, too, is going to not only be a gigantic one, but one especially picked for the occasion and that will offer the very rarest, as well as brightest gems in the world of "movies."

"The Award of Justice," Kalem's great special two-part film, heads today's show. It is a gripper, being the story of an evangelist who reforms the leader of a gang of thugs. He is then accused of murder and convicted on testimony furnished by the gangsters. Sentenced to prison he escapes, but is finally recognized by one of the old gangsters, who has gained political favor and is now a "boss." How the "boss" is baffled makes a great sequel. It's the most stirring thing in movies. Don't miss it.

Yet this is not all by any means. "The Cop on the Beat," Selig's story of city and Western life, is a headliner, and it's a thriller.

Then for real novelty, of the biggest type, there will be the Vitagraph's "The Ghost," which is exceedingly clever. Yesterday's large crowds again attested as to the popularity of The Grand. So get in the push.

Big Picture at Bijou.

Today The Bijou will present what is undoubtedly the greatest masterpiece of the photoplay art, and what has been heralded as the costliest production ever made, in the stupendous four-reel production of "Washington at Valley Forge." This production, which is just from the film manufacturers, has taken many months to produce in all its entirety, and is complete from the first to the last flash. Many thousands of people took part in the making of this mammoth four-reel picture, and cost counted many thousands of dollars.

The biggest stars of the screen, including Francis Ford, as the Spy; Grace Cunard, as Betty, and Harry Schuman, as her brother, were requisitioned for this masterpiece, which is produced by the Universal Special Feature Players. The contract under which The Bijou has secured this great production specifies that the picture shall not be shown at any theatre for less than 10 cents admission and The Bijou will today only, raise the price of admission to the popular photoplay house from five to ten cents.

To make up for this increase, which has been forced upon them, they will present two other big pictures, two of the best that could be secured. One is the Animated Weekly, which shows many events of world interest, and is this week one of the best numbers yet. The other one is a big Frontier comedy, "A Neighborly Quarrel," one of the biggest comedies you have seen in a long time.

FREE FACILITIES FOR COUNTY PHYSICIANS.

Health Department Will Assist Physicians n Diagnosis.

For the convenience of physicians who desire to have microscopic examination made of suspected cases of diphtheria, the health department has placed sterile throat swabs and culture tubes at the drug stores of Mr. B. C. Moore, No. 718 North Fourth street; Hall's Pharmacy, No. 501 Castle street, and Jarman's, at No. 107 Princess street. Physicians can obtain a package at either of these places and after procuring a specimen in the proper way can return the package either to the drug store or the health department, preferably the latter place.

The specimens will be sent to the city laboratory immediately and the culture tube will be inoculated properly and the specimen will be examined microscopically for diphtheria germs. As soon as the report is made out it will be sent to the physician.

It is hoped by this means to be of material assistance to the physicians of the city and it is also hoped that they will avail themselves freely of the laboratory facilities now afforded them.

Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, county health officer, stated yesterday that in order to make more useful the service of the laboratory of the County Board of Health, it is hoped within the next year to employ a laboratory man for his entire time so that all forms of diagnostic work can be done, foods and beverages can be analyzed to determine whether or not they are adulterated, private water supplies can be more carefully supervised and more important than all else the milk inspection of the city may be made more efficient.

The laboratory is now fitted up, Dr. Nesbitt stated, with all needed apparatus and all that is needed is the employment of a man for enough of his time to do the work. The meat and milk inspector should also be employed for enough of his time to make the necessary inspections and to collect samples, he said.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS TODAY

Big Tent Up and Everything In Readiness for the Seven-Day Course of Entertainment.

All is now in readiness for the big Redpath-Y. M. C. A. chautauqua which begins this afternoon at 3:30 on the grounds at 11th and Market streets, when the Dunbar Bell Ringers and Male Quartette give a half hour's concert and Judge George D. Alden, of Boston, delivers his famous lecture on the "Needs of the Hour."

This will no doubt be an epoch-making week for Wilmington. Never before in the history of this city has such a colossal seven-day programme been booked here. Ordinarily to hear such men as Senator Cannon, Judge Alden, Dr. W. A. Colledge, Dr. Ott, Montaville Flowers and the rest, or to enjoy such musical attractions as the Dunbars, Kryl and his Bohemian band, Marcus Kellerman, the Cathedral choir, Kellogg-Haines Singing Party, Denton Grand Opera Company, or to see and hear the wonderful Ben Greet Players in Shakespearian drama—one would have to travel miles and miles. Through the efforts and public spirit of the Y. M. C. A. this mighty array of talent from the Redpath bureau has been secured to entertain the people of this city for an entire week.

Judge Alden, who delivers the opening lecture, is one of the most dramatic orators on the platform. His "Needs of the Hour" is said to be a trumpet call to reform. The individual, human unit is his theme. Judge Alden possesses lots of wit and humor. He was the first man to receive a five-year contract from the Redpath bureau.

The Dunbars give an afternoon concert at 3:30, and the evening programme in conjunction with John B. Ratto, impersonator, the evening's programme beginning at 8 o'clock. For years the Dunbars have been known as America's foremost concert company—the only one of its kind. They carry over 200 bells, being from one to 25 pounds in weight. Unlike other bells, they are soft and mellow in quality of tone. They have been accused many times of having a small organ concealed and operated in connection with the bells. MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" and Chopin's "Raindrop" are given with a grace and effect absolutely unobtainable on any other instrument. Besides bell ringing the Dunbars are said to sing exceedingly well.

John B. Ratto, who gives the latter half of the evening's programme, does character impersonations in make-up. He does this before his audience. It is said he always has numerous surprises in store for his hearers. He makes each character different in appearance, speech and action. Ratto has remarkable ability, never failing to hold his audience spell-bound.

The campaign for the sale of season tickets closes this morning. Each day the demand for tickets has been increasing and the indications point to a successful chautauqua in every way. Dr. James G. Whiting, who is to superintend the chautauqua here, arrived yesterday and is now in charge. Dr. Whiting is a lecturer and platform manager of wide experience. Finishing touches on the big tent will be made this morning. The tent has a seating capacity of 2,000. All the seats and chairs have comfortable backs. The tent is waterproof, rainy weather not interfering with any performance. There are 300 reserved chairs. Tickets for these are now on sale at the Y. M. C. A.

GREATEST CROP OF WHEAT

Largest Winter Crop Ever Grown Is in the Making According to Government Estimate.

Washington, May 7.—The greatest crop of winter wheat ever grown, one-fifth again as large as the record crop grown last year, and more than half again as large as that harvested in 1912, is indicated by statistics announced by the Department of Agriculture today.

In all 630,000,000 bushels will be produced if the highly favorable conditions existing since the crop was planted last fall, continue until harvest time. The acreage abandoned through unfavorable conditions of the winter amounted to only 3.1 per cent of the acreage planted, an unusually low area. This makes the area remaining to be harvested a record one of 35,287,000 acres.

Indications are that Kansas will have a crop of 132,000,000 bushels, or 45,500,000 bushels more than last year, and Oklahoma 35,500,000, or 17,000,000 bushels more than last year.

Acreage remaining on May 1 to be harvested, condition on May 1, and estimated production by some of the States (000's omitted in acreage and productions) follows:

State:	Acreage.	Condition.	Production
Virginia	779	95	10,000
West Virginia	236	95	3,200
North Carolina	611	92	6,500
South Carolina	803	88	900
Georgia	140	90	1,600
Kentucky	745	91	10,800
Tennessee	709	97	8,600
Maryland	612	94	9,900

COTTON MARKET WAS QUIET

Ruled Generally Steady and Closed at a Net Advance of From One to Seven Points.

New York, May 7.—The cotton market was very quiet today but ruled generally steady and closed at a net advance of from one to seven points. Private reports that it was raining at two or three Texas points may have helped the market during the afternoon but there seemed to be a feeling around the local ring that they could have been of no great extent, as the early forecasts were for generally fair weather tonight and tomorrow. Advices continued to come in, however, complaining of recent excessive rainfall in the Southwest, and indicating that a considerable period of dry weather would be necessary in some sections before farm work could be resumed. The situation in this respect may have tended to restrict offerings and render the market sensitive to moderate buying orders.

Liverpool was somewhat disappointing, so far as crop months were concerned, and the local market opened steady at a decline of one to four points. There were a few foreign buying orders for July but the support from that source was much less active than it was yesterday and May contracts here soon sold about seven points net lower under liquidation. Later deliveries, however, sold only a point or two down and the market soon steadied on covering by July shorts, and some demand for new crop positions which became a little more active on the private rain news from the Southwest. May sold three points net higher during the early afternoon, while other months showed net gains of from six to seven points and closing prices were only a shade off from the best under realizing in the old crop positions. Reports that Southern hard yarn spinners had declined to curtail their production by one-third during the next 90 days amounting, it was estimated, to about three million pounds of yarn seemed to attract comparatively little attention, while British board of trade returns for April showing increased exports of yarns, but a falling off in cloths, appeared to be about a standoff.

PROHIBITION RESOLUTION POSTPONED UNTIL FALL.

House Not Likely to Act Until After Next Election, Says Hobson.

Toledo, Ohio, May 7.—That a vote on the Hobson resolution for a national prohibition amendment to the constitution will be deferred by the House of Representatives until the Fall was the opinion expressed here today by Congressman Richmond P. Hobson, author of the resolution.

Mr. Hobson said the probable change in the prohibitionists' policy was actuated by failure of the House Judiciary committee to incorporate in the resolution an amendment to the section providing that Congress may regulate the sale and transportation of intoxicants for medicinal and sacramental purposes.

This section, Mr. Hobson said, might give rise to fear of invasion of State rights by the Federal government.

If the vote is deferred until after election next fall Mr. Hobson said every candidate for United States Senator and Representatives will be confronted directly with the prohibition issue in the campaign.

MEXICAN MUST DIE.

Convicted of Murder in Texas—Sentenced to Hang.

San Antonio, Texas, May 7.—Federal Judge T. S. Maxey here today denied a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Leon Cardenas Martinez, aged 19, a Mexican convicted of the murder of Emma Brown, three years ago near Pecos, Texas.

At the instance of the Madero government the case was appealed to the United States Supreme Court on the ground that the defendant was a Mexican citizen. There it was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

Martinez is sentenced to hang May 11.

WHEAT ADVANCE HINDERED

By Well Grounded Notions That Government Crop Report Would be More Bearish.

Chicago, May 7.—Well grounded notions that the government crop report might turn out more bearish than had recently been looked for hindered today decided advance in wheat. A few minutes before hand, prices had closed easy 1-8c off to a like advance compared with last night. STOCK MOVEMENT NARROW

Had Little Effect on General Level of Prices—Market Was Dull and Flat.

New York, May 7.—The narrow and variable movements of stocks today had little effect on the general level of prices. The market was as dull and flat as during yesterday's session and traders made no attempts to force it out of the groove in which it has traveled for several days. Quotations moved alternately up and down, ending with small losses.

London cables quoted lower prices for international shares and reported selling in that market for Paris and New York. Taking their cue from this quarter traders made experimental offerings and succeeded in uncovering a few weak spots. Shares which recently have been heavy such as Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio, were most susceptible to pressure. Elsewhere little effect was produced and professional selling failed to bring out any volume of long stock.

With the exception of the government crop report there was no news of importance in relation to the financial markets. The apathetic reception given to the crop figures indicated the degree of inertia which prevailed. Although the highly favorable forecasts were fulfilled, winter wheat showing an improvement over the splendid indication of a month ago, the stock market was unmoved. In fact, the list receded to the lowest quotations of the day in the last half hour after the crop figures had appeared.

Missouri Pacific was the conspicuously heavy stock on the late recession, yielding over two points. Selling of this stock was influenced by the continued delay in announcement of the road's financial condition.

Reading was heavy, as a few of the less active issue. California Petroleum common and preferred were weak, the preferred falling five points. Selling of Chesapeake & Ohio drew attention to the approaching dividend meeting of the directors.

The sale was announced of $8,000,000 Chicago & Northwestern general mortgage fours and it was expected that other large roads would soon enter the market for funds. Slackness of the demand for money for commercial purposes was reflected in a further shading of loans for short terms.

A few speculative bonds moved widely and irregularly, but the general market held steady. Total sales par value $1,600,000. U. S. 2s registered declined 1-4 on call.

Makes First Equal Suffrage Address Heard There.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 7.—Lavinia Eagle, National organizer of the Equal Suffrage League, made the first woman suffrage address ever heard in Kinston in the public library this morning. Miss Eagle's audience was not large, but enthusiastic. The organization which grew out of her coming will lend its efforts to the cause of suffrage in the State. Members declare that no militant methods will be pursued.

Women of the city who heard Miss Eagle this morning declare that the local league will be one of the strongest in North Carolina. Her coming was little advertised.

WEATHER CONDITIONS IDEAL

For Development of Big Wheat Crop in North Carolina.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 6.—Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham says that the weather conditions just now are ideal for the development of the wheat crop in North Carolina and that the outlook now is for as fine a yield as the State has ever had. Major Graham says, too, that the farm work generally is now well advanced.

The cotton crop and the corn crop is about all in in many sections, although there are sections where the low lands set aside for corn are not yet planted. Corn and cotton are both coming up nicely in cases where the seeding was early enough for the germination to be that far advanced.

COL. S. J. COBB DEAD.

Leading Citizen and Confederate Veteran of Robeson.

Fayetteville, N. C., May 7.—The Observer received a telephone message this morning announcing the death of Col. S. J. Deceased is survived by three sons, Messrs. J. D., Collier and Jordan J. Cobb, and by a daughter, Mrs. C. R. Murphy.

The funeral services will be held at the Baptist church in Parkton Friday morning at 11 o'clock, with military honors by the Lumber Bridge company.

BEGS LIFTING OF EMBARGO ON ARMS

Villa Claims United States Delaying Game.

ALL IS IN READINESS

For the Move On Mexico City by Constitutionalists—Hundreds of Box Cars for Transportation of the Troops.

Torreon, Mexico, May 7.—A plea for the lifting of the embargo on arms as the swiftest and most humanitarian method of bringing peace to eMxico was made today by General Francisco Villa, general-in-chief of the Constitutionalist army.

"The embargo is protracting this struggle uselessly," he said. "I hope the American government understands that the placing of the embargo is interfering seriously with the plans of the Constitutionalists. Gomez Palacio, Torreon, San Pedro de Las Colonias and even Monterey were Constitutionalist successes due to the brief lifting of the embargo. Mexico should be pacified. We cannot gain this end quickly while we suffer from lack of ammunition.

"The sooner we can secure the arms and ammunition we need, the sooner the country will be pacified. I am sure the American public will have no difficulty in understanding this."

General Villa spoke of his attitude toward the United States and Americans in event that hostilities should ensue between the two countries:

"I wish," he said, "to make it clear to the people of the United States that I am anxious for all Americans connected with industries in Mexico to return and take up their pursuits."

Remote Possibility.

General Villa declared that involvment of his party in war with the United States was a remote possibility.

"Why talk of war with the United States," he said.

"It would be extremely foolish for two reasonable and intelligent men to fight over a drunken man and would it not be the height of folly for the United States and Mexico to come to blows over a man like Huerta?"

General Villa reiterated his belief in the good will of the American people toward Mexico. He told of efforts he was making in preparation for a campaign against Saltillo and San Luis Potosi and dwelt on the fact that most of the 15,000 men he received yesterday were well mounted.

The next move in Villa's war plans, it is said, depends somewhat on General Carranza who is expected tomorrow. Hundreds of box cars for transportation of the troops have been concentrated about Torreon and large stores of provisions and forage have been assembled. All available troops from the north are being brought here. The re-opening of the Torreon-Monterey line of railroad will greatly facilitate the handling of troops. It is reported here that the railroad line between Saltillo and San Luis Potosi has been cut. One Constitutionalists' command is said to be operating a short distance south of Saltillo and another a short distance north of San Luis Potosi.

Federal Gunboat Destroyed.

San Diego, Cal., May 7.—Lying half submerged on the beach near Mazatlan is the Federal gunboat Morelos, disabled first by bombs dropped by a rebel aviator, supposed to be Didier Masson, and then swept by a severe fire from insurgent field pieces, according to passengers who arrived her today by the Mexican steamer Bonito Juarez.

The gunboat was wrecked April 26 when the rebels were given great assistance by the aviator.

Colonel Romeo, a Constitutionalist leader in the State of Sonora, who arrived on the Renito Juarez, said the rebels are planning a simultaneous attack against Salina Cruz, Acapulco and other west coast cities held by the Federals.

"Villa and Zapata have wagered $50,000 on who will be the first to enter Mexico City," said Romero. "Huerta's days are numbered. The rebels boast that he will fall within 15 days and that this is inevitable if he does not flee the country."

preparations, but official Washington and the society of the national capital had no part in the affair. Most of the guests were intimate friends of the family from other cities. Secretary McAdoo gave a luncheon to his colleagues in the cabinet attended also by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., his best man; Secretary Tumulty and Vice President Marshall.

The President and Mrs. Wilson motored with their three daughters. During the early evening small crowds peered through the fences and iron gates, but saw only the procession of carriages and automobiles as they brought guests or took them away.

Guests, relatives and close friends of the two families were grouped in a semi-circle. There was a hush of silence as the clergyman entered the main corridor and ascended the little altar with its predieu covered with white satin. The Marine Band struck up the Wedding March. Miss Sallie McAdoo, 10-year-old daughter of the Secretary, led the procession as a flower girl, followed by Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre, sister of the bride and matron of honor, and Miss Margaret Wilson, eldest daughter of the President and maid of honor. Miss Nancy Lane, 12 years old, another flower girl, daughter of Secretary Lane, directly preceded the bride, who was escorted b ythe President. The groom, with Dr. Cary Travers Grayson, U. S. N., best man, met the bride at the altar.

The Presbyterian single-ring service was used with the characteristic words, "Love, honor and obey." As the President gave the bride away, there was an affectionate smile on his face. H estepped back from the altar beside Mrs. Wilson and as the words of the service were read, their faces were gravely solemn.

The bride and groom repeated the service unfalteringly and did not appear nervous. They smiled happily as they led the procession from the altar to the red room where they received the congratulations of the guests.

Supper was served at small tables in the state dining room, while the Marine Band played. The bride cut the wedding cake with Dr. Grayson's sword, the young folks had a dance in the blue room and in an unsuspected moment Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo slipped into a waiting automobile anf motored rapidly down Executive avenue.

They will be away on their wedding trip about two weeks and will not go abroad as has been reported. The Secretary expects to keep in close touch with the work of his office.

Henry D. White, former ambassador to France, also is spoken of as a possibility.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, former charge d'affaires at Mexico City, arrived in Washington today. He saw Secretary Bryan only for a few minutes and deferred his call to the President and Secretary Daniels until later. A report from the Brazilian ambassador at Mexico City stated that a train load of refugees, 500 to 600 in number left for Vera Cruz in two sections yesterday evening. General Huerta promised soldiers to accompany the trains. Those on the train included Dr. Edward Ryan, the American physician who had been arrested on a charge of being a spy and released on strong representations by the Brazilian ambassador. John Silliman, deputy consul at Saltillo, whose disappearance at San Luis Potosi has caused much anxiety, resulted in a visit to General Huerta by the German and French ministers. He assured them that he had sent soldiers to the assistance of Silliman. Saltillo is cut off from the capital and perhaps now is in the hands of the Constitutionalists, and the orderlies, the diplomats said, might not reach their destination.

Chairman Chamberlain, of the committee on military affairs, introduced a resolution authorizing the President to raise the army above the present statutory limit of 100,000 in times when war is immentn or on occasions of grave emergency, requiring the use of the regular army. The resolution also recited that at the present time there exists a condition which at any moment may require the fullest and most effective use of the regular army of the United States. Senator Chamberlain declared the bill was not the result of any conference with the Secretary of War or the President.

Evidence of Preparedness.

Significant evidences of military preparedness came from Colonel Goethals, of the Panama zone, who reported that his forces had been stationed along the canal to protect the locks.

Notwithstanding the fact that Carranza will not be represented by delegates at the mediation conference, it was stated authoritatively that the plan proposed by the mediators would cover the pacification of all Mexico.

The peace plan, it was learned, will not be formulated until negotiations at Niagara Falls shall have produced a basis of information and an exchange of views between the mediators and the delegates, and until everything to be presented by delegates of both sides shall have been fully considered and sifted.

In this connection it was pointed out here today that there seemed to be a mistaken idea that the mediation proceedings were in the nature of an international conference to be followed by the signing of a proctocol, whereas the efforts of the mediators will be advisory only.

There is no disposition, it was said, to regard the advance of the Constitutionalist forces as an imminent danger.

Reports during the day showed that while American refugees continued their exodus from Mexico City and the south, conditions in North Mexico had so improved that Americans felt justified in venturing back to reopen their mines. The American consulate at Cananea, Sonora, was reopened by Consular Agent Montague.

Warned Not to Land.

Plans for the return of British and American operatives to the Tampico oil fields were interfered with by an unexpected notifiecation from the Federal commander that no foreigners could land as long as warships remained at Tampico. Both Federals and Constitutionalists earlier had invited the oil men to return, under promises of protection and General Huerta, according to information reaching the State Department today, had issued an order to Federal officers in the Tampico district to this effect.

Messages passing through the State Department indicated that the Tampico oil properties are well cared for.

A delegation of representatives of American oil interests at Tampico who have just returned to the United States, called at the Navy Department today and told Secretary Daniels that the United States should police Mexico and aid the resumption of oil operations. Later they saw the President. Secretary Daniels told them they ought to be thankful they had escaped with their properties.

Representatives of oil interests told Secretary Bryan that because of their enforced absence from Mexico title to their leases is being transferred to opponents. This is taken to mean that British concessionaries at the beneficiaries. These titles are being transferred in Mexico City and some Americans claim they face financial ruin in consequence. The story was told that contributors to a fund for General Huerta being deposited in Paris were among those to whom title to American holdings is being transferred in the Mexican capital.

BURGLAR SHOT AND KILLED.

Business Men Watch Man Enter a Store—Open Fire When Leaving.

Thaxton, Va., May 7.—Suspicious that an attempt would be made tonight to rob their store, J. D. Morgan, a merchant, of this place, and his son, J. L. Morgan, secreted themselves in an outbuilding nearby and watched a man enter their establishment about 11 o'clock tonight.

When the intruder became alarmed and attempted to leave the store by a window, Mr. Morgan and his son opened fire. Both shots took effect in the man's breast, and he died in a few minutes without making a statement. His identity was not established.

San Francisco, May 7.—Major General J. Franklin Bell, who has been relieved from duty as head of the Department of the Philippines, arrived from the Orient last night. General Bell is on his way to Texas City under orders from Washington.

NAVY APPROPRIATION BILL PASSED HOUSE

Administration Naval Construction Programme.

Measure Passed Congress Without a Vote—Carries $139,560,334—Two Battleships Will be Built.

Washington, May 7.—The House today passed without a roll call the annual Naval Appropriation bill, carrying $139,560,334 and privilege for the entire administration naval construction programme. The building programme includes two battleships, one to be built in some government navy yard; six torpedo boat destroyers, one seagoing torpedo boat, three coast defense submarine torpedo boats, to be constructed on the Pacific coast and four submarines.

The "Little Navy" men made their final stand against two battleships on a motion to send the bill back to the committee which was defeated — 201 to 106. Democratic Leader Underwood, Republican Leader Mann and other prominent figures in the House, supported the motion.

the meeting of the Sons of Veterans by the introduction of a resolution calling upon Congress to pension Confederate Veterans. The resolution was introduced by Judge N. H. Hairston, of Roanoke, Va., judge advocate general, Department of Virginia, Sons of Veterans.

Scarcely had the resolution been seconded when W. W. Old, Jr., commander-in-chief of the organization, left his official chair in order to make a speech denouncing it.

"I am willing to take my coat off and work for funds with which to supply our Confederate soldiers," he declared, "and until we are no longer able to do so, we should not ask the government to help them."

The speaker was heartily cheered as he asserted that he had consulted hundreds of Virginia veterans and had found none who was in favor of beseeching aid from the government.

Speeches against it were only checked by the adoption of a motion to enter into the election of officers in five minutes. Before that time had elapsed the resolution was tabled by an overwhelming vote.

S. A. L. COMPANY INDICTED

Case Involves Search and Seizure Act and Will Go to United States Supreme Court.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 7.—The Wake county grand jury has just indicted the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co., in a suit involving the North Carolina Search and Seizure act that is sure to be carried all the way to the United States Supreme Court, in the opinion of Soliciter H. E. Norris and others connected with the case.

It is on the charge of refusing to exhibit to Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, the books of the company showing liquors received for delivery and to whom delivered, the demand having been made and declined about the first of the year.

The contention of the Seaboard, through General Counsel Watts, of Norfolk, is that under the Inter-State Commerce Act, the company has no right to show deliveries of inter-State shipments except in specific cases and then only where the demand is made by some direct officer of the law, and not to citizens generally, as the North Carolina Seach and Seizure law would exact, and that, too, without specifying deliveries as the Federal act would require.

The Southern Railway Co., the Southern Express Co., and the Norfolk Southern comply with the requirements of the Search and Seizure act as to inspections by any citizens on the ground that the Webb act of Congress prohibiting shipments of liquors into prohibition territory is to be construed with the Inter-State Commerce Act, thereby giving force and effect to the State Search and Seizure law. And it is on this ground that Solicitor Norris expects to make the fight for the State against the Seaboard Air Line. The case will probably come up for trial at the next term of the Superior court.

MRS. C. R. APPLEGATE.

Tells Mothers What to Do for Delicate Children.

"My little boy has been rather delicate for a long time. He was always very pale and his appetite was poor. Several people recommended 'Vinol.' I gave it to him and he took it willingly, as the taste is delicious. In a short time I noticed a great improvement in his appetite. He soon had more color in his cheeks. He is now well like other children and romps about every afternoon after school. I am so happy with what Vinol did for my little boy, that I want every mother to know about it."—Mrs. C. R. Applegate, Dayton, Ohio.

This delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil is a wonderful body builder and strength creator for both young and old. We promise to give back your money in every such case where Vinol does not benefit. This shows our faith in Vinol. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.
